An Old Idea.
Every day strengthens the belief of eminent physicians that impure blood is the cause of the majority of our diseases. Twenty-five years ago this theory was used as a basis for the formula of Brown's Iron Bitters. The many remarkable cures effected by this famous old household remedy are sufficient to prove that the theory is correct. Brown's Iron Bitters is sold by all dealers.

Commencement visitors have already commenced arriving.

It is almost impossible for newspaper men or any body else to keep up with the people visiting Dahlonega. They are coming and going all the time.

If any of the Lumpkin county moonshiners want to receive prompt attention they can be accommodated by going down to Gainesville and commence selling liquor. Judge Prior sentenced Mrs. E. L. Eberhart $125 the other day or twelve months in the chain gang for following the business.

Ladies, if you need anything in the millinery line, call on Mrs. Strickland, who is located in her new quarters next door on the street above her residence, where everything is kept neat and nice and at prices that will be sure to please you. The very latest styles of goods in this line will be found at this house.

We received a letter from Walnut on the 24th ult. written on the 9th. The distance from Dahlonega to Walnut is only twelve miles and is located in Lumpkin county, but a letter has to come many miles round by Cleveland, Belton and Gainesville before it reaches Dahlonega. Talk about fast mail transportation we have it here in Lumpkin county—over the left.

A gentleman representing the Christian Index stepped off the four foot wall at the end of Hall's Villa the other night and stove himself up considerably. Had he not been here in the interest of a christian work there is no telling what would have been the result. This high wall should have a railing at it so as to keep strangers from walking off of it. It will be too late after somebody breaks their neck.

Mrs. F. W. Bainbridge, of Toledo, Ohio, after spending several days in Dahlonega has returned to her home in the north. Mrs. Bainbridge paid the Nugget office a pleasant visit before she departed who expressed herself as perfectly delighted with our healthy climate, as well as pleased with the gold mines here in which she is interested. Quite a number of northern ladies own stock in the Consolidated Co. and are making frequent visits down here now since the mill has commenced operation.

The Broad Creed.

The following in the LaGrange Graphic is as beautiful as it is true: "So long as there is suffering in the world, there will be need for the broad and deathless creed of kindness. It is more deeply religious, more truly unselfish, more beautifully uncertain than any theology that was ever involved or any dogma or doctrine that has ever been promulgated. This closing year of the century finds more universal discussion of creeds and doctrines than of the world has known for several decades. Sooner or later, all dogmas and articles of faith that have been drawn up and shaped by man will discover flaws as Christianity progresses and religion grows more and more to be the one great and paramount need of humanity.

There is not a confession of faith extant that does not need more of Christ's religion in it and less of man's understanding and interpretation.—The great religion of God that is to save the world is founded on unselfishness, from which springs love, kindness, patience and every other virtue.

The Census.

Census enumerators request farmers and their wives to inform themselves so as to promptly give information on the following questions: 1st, month and year of birth of all the children? 2nd, No. of acres of land improved and value of all?

3rd, value of all the buildings on land?

4th, amount and value of everything produced on the place last year, such as cotton, corn, wheat, barley, peas, hay etc. whether sold, consumed, or on hand?

5th, No. of fine stock and value now on hand, such as horses, mules, cows, sheep, swine, etc.

6th, No. and value of all fowls on hand?

7th, No. of dozen and value of eggs sold or consumed last year?

8th, No. lbs. and value of butter made last year?

9th, No. of acres in vineyard, also number of vines and amount and value of grapes or wine produced last year?

Enumerators will necessarily be in a hurry, and by posting some member of the family on these points, farmers who may be absent will greatly facilitate the work.—Enumerators.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach, I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

Pay Your Debts.

The Methodist Advocate, under the heading "Pious Scams" says: "Just at this time our country needs a religion that will make a man pay his debts. Shouting won't pay old accounts with God or man. We bounce right into a man and put him out of the church if he goes to the ball or theatre, but never say a word to a pious old scam who never pays his debts. Preachers and people who don't pay their debts are doing the church more harm than dancers, for there are more of them in the church. Readers, are we getting close to you? Then lay down your paper and go and pay up and read on with ease. And don't you stop paying because the 'statute of limitation' excuses the open account which you made for bread and meat. You must pay it in cash or God will make you pay it in fire and brimstone. God knows no such excuse for paying as 'homestead exemption.' When you raise that excuse to keep from paying debts you can stop singing: 'When I can read my titles clear to mansions in the skies' You've none up there."

Negro Census Enumerators.

A correspondent of the Macon Telegraph from Atlanta says:

Census Supervisor M. L. Coyington of Carroll county, who will have charge of the work of taking the census of the Fourth congressional district, has appointed three negro enumerators and assigned them to duty in Troup county. One of them will take the census of West Point and the other two will perform similar service in that county. These appointments are not well received in Troup and Congressman Charles Adamson has been appealed to with the hope of having Supervisor Covington recall these objectionable appointments.

A morking bird belonging to Mrs. William Neill, of Augusta, has been taught by her to talk. It is very interesting indeed to hear it utter the words that have by persistent and painstaking effort been taught it.

The Philadelphia Ledger estimates that the 200,000 bushels of corn which has just been sent from New York to the famished people of India will keep them upon starvation rations for about three days and a half. This gives a faint idea of the appalling extent of the needs of these unfortunate people.

Millinery Goods.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 1, 1900.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The Supreme Court has decided that Beckman is governor of Kentucky.

When a woman neglects her husband's shirts she is no longer the wife of his bosom.

F. J. Williams, who was a candidate for sheriff in Union county has stepped down and out and gone to taking the census.

Just be patient. The political pot in Lumpkin county will begin to boil at an early day and keep it hot until after the election.

No primaries were held in Union or Towns county on the 15th ult. They were too busy over there to pay any attention to politics.

There is one thing sure, Carter Tate will be elected to congress if he lives. This is about all we can tell you for certain in the coming campaign.

The street car lines in Augusta have to be guarded now for fear the negroes will do some damage to them since they have been refused admittance into the cars with white people.

The national tickets nominated so far are: Bryan and Towne, by the populists; Barker and Donnelly, by the populists; Harriam and Hays, socialist labor; Debs and Harriam, socialist-democratic; Swallow and Woolley, Christian.

Hereafter Methodist ministers in the north will not have any limit to their pastorate. The discipline has been so amended that if a preacher pleases his congregations he may remain its pastor indefinitely. This is quite a radical change in Methodist principles.—Columbus Enquirer.

The employees of a shoe factory in Cincinnati struck last week because they were assessed five cents a week to pay for ice used to cool the drinking water. We wish it was so that those employees could locate in Lumpkin county where the weather is cool and pleasant, and the water cold enough without ice.

"Ducktown," said a Tennessean at the Kimball, "is going right ahead. A world of English capital is being invested in copper mines up there. It will not be long, before a company will begin operations at Ducktown which will employ 3,000 men. Just think of a pyramid built of pennies made of the copper which 3,000 skilled workers can get out in a week, and you'll have some idea of the great work ahead in Ducktown."—Journal.

Fitzgerald Leader: Excessive drinking is being slowly stamped out by other agencies than religion. Society does part of the work, the church another, but among the more potent new factors is the attitude of large employers toward intemperate men. Railroad companies will no longer have them, and that means more than 1,000,000 men compelled to abstain from intemperance. Large manufacturers are falling in line and the siege is being tightened about toper. He soon will have disappeared from the honorable and profitable employments, and his departure will cause no regret.

A remarkable circumstance connected with the funeral of Hon. W. W. Merrell Tuesday afternoon was that there were present the 15 living children of the deceased and that for the first time in the history of the family all of them were together. As the cortege retired from the church the casket was preceded by the two eldest sons while it was borne by eight of them acting as pallbearers the remaining children, two sons and three daughters and a large number of grand children and great grand children and other relatives followed it. That so large a number of children should all survive their father and participate in his funeral obsequies is the most remarkable instance we ever know of.—Carroll County Times.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Walker, of the Crescent, is still on the ground and when their concentrators are added you may expect to hear of good results. The gold is there but can't be saved without making this addition.

All the stamps at the Hand have been put in motion and the machinery moves like clock work and is very interesting to the large number of visitors who are flocking here from all parts of the country to see this great work.

We have no mining news to report from White county this week. None of her citizens have been down, and the Courier, published at Cleveland, has gone into the hands of a preacher who has been leaving off mining and devoting the space to religious matters.

The works of Crown Mountain from the head of the Chestatee river to the mine is moving right along by a good force of hands. So far the manager has had no trouble in securing rights of ways necessary for their work at reasonable figures. There seems to be no opposition to this enterprise but on the other hand everybody had rather lend a helping hand. It is a big enterprise and will be a great help to Lumpkin county.

There are more western miners in Dahlonega now than were ever here before at one time in the history of the country. They were brought here by the Consolidated Co. for the purpose of introducing deep mining and operating the most improved modern machinery, nothing like it never before being used in this country, and of course our miners know nothing about operating it, but will soon learn, thereby eventually greatly benefitting them as well as their native country.

It is no trouble to find the yellow metal in Dahlonega and often when it is not being searched for. A number of years ago a rich vein was struck in the cemetery while a grave was being dug for an old negro woman. The famous Street mine was discovered by some hands while working the road. A vein in front of Hall's Villa was discovered in the same manner. A good vein was also cut last year while Capt. Hall was excavating the ground for his storage house. And last week a gold bearing vein was struck in councilman Reeses new well. Frequently after rains nice particles and nuggets of gold are picked up on the streets of Dahlonega.

Mr. Wharton, of the Calhoun came up the other day with a big piece of gold which was certainly pleasing to look at. It was melted in a muffin iron and weighed about three hundred pennyweights and to say that it was pretty does not express it. It was not melted out of the gold brick or any part of it, mentioned in our last issue, for he carried it also, but was melted from a different lot of gold taken from the Calhoun, which is being operated with excellent results every day. We have seen gold in almost all shapes but never saw a gold muffin before. However they are very nice things to have about the house we imagine, and wouldn't care if we had several of them.

For the first time in many years mining is being done on the belt near the long tubes. A Mr. Lawless and McCan, of Dawson county are deposit mining a short distance to the left of these tubes, making good wages. We are informed that they made three dollars a day a portion of the time last week. This does well under the old system of mining—long ton and sluice washing. Mining is beginning to spread out in every direction on the different belts in Lumpkin county and ere long the whole woods will be alive with them as in days of many years ago and another mint will be needed in Dahlonega to coin the gold that will be taken out, and prosperity will once more greet us on every hand, causing our city to build up as if by magic.

A force of hands have recently been put to work by the Consolidated Co. in a tunnel over at the Findley on the shoot searching for one of those rich pockets that have been found at various times since this celebrated vein was discovered by Jeff Findley long before the war. The rock is very hard and often several hundred dollars is expended by blasting before a pocket is struck, but when one is found from one to two thousand pennyweights of gold are generally taken out before it is exhausted. G. W. Jenkins, who is now engaged in the tunnel, was at work at two different times when a pocket was struck and it is interesting to hear him tell about them—being so rich that a bucketful of the poorest ore produced 500 pennyweights of gold. Such a mine is worth attention and very interesting to its owners who are expecting at any time to hear of another rich strike.

Is Worse Yet to Come?

Exposure of the administration in the Cuban postal service, says the Philadelphia Times, awakens suspicion regarding the enormous expenditures made on the island during the past year, as shown by Secretary Root's report to the senate. Of the $14,000,000 imbursement, $4,816,000 went for salaries on the civil list. The military officials draw their regular pay from this government. Another item that arouses curiosity is a labor pay-roll of $1,377,000. That a great deal of money was disbursed to give employment to the poor of the larger cities is probably true, but when the fact is discovered that the war department offers no explanation of items showing about $500,000 to have been paid out for "extraordinary expenses," a cold shiver runs down the back of the thoughtful citizen who contemplates the possibilities of even worse disclosures.

Can it be possible that Algerism is to be succeeded by something more disgraceful? In dealing with that blemish upon the conduct of the war, the president finally acted with such manly courage that even his political opponents now anticipate the most thorough investigation of Cuban affairs. The administration owes it to itself and to every citizen of the country to wipe out this new humiliation with the least possible delay.

Every dollar that has been stolen by United States officials must be restored to Cuba.

Dr. Cravans has been called north again on special business.

About 3,500,000 persons are daily receiving government relief as a result of the famine is 445,000 square miles, with a population of 61,000,000.

Remember that we keep blank powers of attorney, bonds for title, options, deeds and most everything else at the Nugget office. We can also furnish you nice visiting cards either blank or priced cheap.

It is said that Mark Hanna is to defray the campaign expenses of the Barker, Middle-of-the-road populists hoping that they may be able to pull away at least 1,500,000 from Bryan and then secure the election of McKinley.

An old mule has been secured by the council and a cart fixed up as a substitute for a scavenger wagon, but at last accounts they could not get any one to engineer it. A scavenger wagon without a driver is neither useful nor ornamental.

It is estimated that the cost to the people of the United States for simply nominating presidential candidates is $10,000,000; this means railroad fare, hotel bills and such expenses in going to and while attending the various conventions.

When you come to town next week drop in and see G. H. McGuire, the jeweler. Have your broken clock or watch mended, get one of his pretty finger rings so as to be attractive, or if your eyesight is failing buy a pair of his excellent specks that are useful as well as ornamental.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF COD-LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

FIRST—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

SECOND—Because, if the children are delicate and shilly, it will make them strong and well.

THIRD—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

FOURTH—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it. It can be taken in summer as well as in winter.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 1, 1900.

It was nearly cool enough for frost again last Monday.

It may be to your interest to visit Dahlonega next Tuesday—sale day. There is a lot of wild lands and other property to sell.

The Irish potato crop in this section is going to be quite small if our farmers and gardeners don't succeed in getting something that will kill out the potato bugs.

By reference elsewhere in this issue it will be seen that subscribers continue to come in from every course. They all feel an interest in this country and take the Nugget in order to keep posted.

The meetings at every church in the county will be well attended by all candidates in it from now until the election, and it will be a good time to take up a collection for they will be very liberal during the campaign.

Gentlemen, don't go away from home to do your trading but spend your money with your home merchants, especially those advertising in the Nugget. Remember that you get your money at home and it does not look exactly right to carry it off into another county to spend it.

Some parties went out to Mill Creek church last Sunday to hear Revs. Mr. Parks of Dawson county and Jim Wehnt of Lumpkin preach, but it didn't have any effect on them religiously speaking as a portion of the crowd got hold of some liquor and drank so much that they fell by the wayside and didn't get in until after dark.

At 11 o'clock last Sunday the new Presbyterian church at Dahlonega was dedicated, services being conducted by Revs. Harroll and Wynne, the first named divine being the pastor. There was no meeting anywhere else and all church goes went out to the new church to listen to the words spoken by these two able divines, all of whom expressed themselves as being much pleased with the services from beginning to ending.

It seems from the tone of a long letter received from A. J. Dockery, a resident of Chastate District, that he has reasons to believe that some one made an effort to get a bill against him at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court charging him with being connected with the stealing of a copper plate taken from one of the pounding mills near Dahlonega some time ago. Mr. Dockery denies the charge and denounces the one who made this move in the most bitter terms. We had never heard of this charge before and think it is useless to publish the letter because we have yet to hear of a single man that believes that he is guilty. And if such a thing did come up before the grand jury we would dislike to be in the jurors place that told it.

It is a little singular how some things are carried on in Dahlonega by the council. Immediately after the council passed the ordinance requiring cattle to be kept up at night as soon as dark appeared some two or three cows were impounded by the marshals without the citizens having any notice of the same. The most important ordinance was the one adopted by the council as suggested by the board of health. This one was dated to take effect on the 25th of May. Some prepared for it and complied with the law, while others paid no more attention to it than if there had not been any such ordinance in existence. It was not enforced like the cow ordinance but on the other hand the board of health met again on the afternoon of the 26th and issued new instructions and maybe after while all will be required to toe the mark and the city put in a clean healthy condition.

The price of both shingles and lumber have advanced in Dahlonega during the past few days.

Mr. Frazer, manager of Hall's Villa has been absent several days ordering furniture for the big hotel.

The family of J. M. Hutchins have moved here from Jefferson and located in the residence vacated by Capt. Williams.

While attending the commencement exercises next week call down at the Nugget office and drop a dollar in the slot.

Many houses have been built in Dahlonega during the past few months but more are still needed. Numbers of families would locate here if they could get house room.

The eclipse is now over? What will be the next attraction in Dahlonega? We know of nothing earlier than the Dahlonega camp meeting and that won't take place until some time in August.

Tax receiver Stargel, after remaining in Dahlonega three days this week closed his book last Wednesday, and those who neglected to see him will receive special attention later in the year.

We are glad to state that Drew Anderson, who was struck on the head with a shovel down at the Hand mine some days ago by a negro is slowly recovering and will be up on foot again soon if he gets no back set.

Mr. Packard, of Turkey Hill, came in last Saturday and armed himself with a hoe as well as other useful articles which shows that he means to devote a portion of his time in killing weeds while not digging gold.

You will find the Nugget a splendid advertising medium. Try it, and if your business does not increase, have the advertisement discontinued. We do not want any man's money for advertising unless it pays him.

The three nights entertainment which was billed to take place in Dahlonega last week didn't come off but it is considerably better for the place, as there is more money here than would have been otherwise which can be used to a better advantage than for show purposes.

A certain person brought a lot of rotten eggs to Dahlonega and sold them the other day. This person pretends to be a Christian and attends church regularly always occupying an Amen bench. Some people may call this religion but we pronounce it a very poor article.

A number of citizens went out to Oak Grove last Sunday to witness the foot washing. All those present behaved themselves nicely but some one got out a short distance from the church and fired their pistol off a time or two which sounded a little out of order for Sunday.

Well, the eclipse of the sun predicted by the astronomers last Monday morning did take place. It was not quite a total eclipse in Dahlonega but got so dark at one time that the setting of type in the Nugget office had to be suspended for a few moments. Long before the time arrived for the eclipse you could see people in almost every direction looking through pieces of smoked glass and before it was over every person big enough to know what they were doing took a peep at it.

Judging from a conversation overheard between two gentlemen the other day we people of the south have been misrepresented in the north by some who take a delight in trying to keep up strife between the people of the northern and southern states. One of them had been in Dahlonega for several weeks and was telling his friend who had just arrived that he had never met any finer or better people in all his travels. He seemed to be surprised. The people of the south will always be found this way. Let all doubting ones come and see for themselves. We will assure them that they will always be treated right.

The census takers commenced work to-day.

The indications are now that Dahlonega will have a good crowd of visitors this summer.

E. E. Crisson, after a severe spell of sickness is able to be out on the streets again.

Only a few days ago Miss Maud Davis was wedded to Mr. John England. Both of Lumpkin county.

Nearly every time a case or keg of beer is brought to Dahlonega the fund in the city treasury is increased.

The young ladies of the Corona Federate Society had their badges printed at the Nugget office. They believe in patronizing home industry. Thanks.

W. H. Cook, of Helena, Montana, re-novating his subscription by a "one dollar william" last week says: "Send me the NUGGET. I can't do without my home paper."

And still they come to Dahlonega for the purpose of making it their permanent place to live. New houses are springing up all about and notes of progress can be seen on every hand.

J. M. Hutchins and the proprietor of his boarding house, had a misunderstanding Sunday night, resulting in Mr. Hutchins paying a fine Monday for having violated one of the city ordinances.

The temperance meeting at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening was largely attended as usual. The monthly gatherings never fail to attract a large crowd. This was their first meeting at this church.

When Col. Farrow went up to Porter Springs some days ago to do some work he was unable to get any hands. He returned to Gainesville and the next time we heard from the Colonel he was going back with a wagon load of men.

The scavenger cart is not running yet but the city council can put it on the track as soon as one can be made. We will just have to wait awhile and be patient, Dahlonega being changed from a town to a city has caused us all to get a little frustrated. We will get it all right by and by.

Quite a number of persons attended services at Oak Grove last Sunday. What's the trouble? It looks like there are enough ministers here in Dahlonega to entertain the people without them having to pay to be transported several miles into the country to hear the gospel explained.

Rev. Mr. Burt, of Dawsonville, visited our city first of the week. In shaking hands with Mr. Burt said we made some heavy shots and he gloried in our spunk as an editor but didn't like our judgment. We might make just such a remark about his preaching and then be mistaken.

The potato bugs are the worst pests we have had in this country for a long time. Our citizens have used various remedies to try to get rid of them but they are still with us. Some have kept a close watch on the vines, picking them off and killing them and they are about all the ones that have any potatoes.

J. A. Howard's pleasing appearance could be seen at the postoffice window last Saturday and Monday during the absence of assistant postmaster Price. Johnnie remained until dark and waited on the patrons with much patience like he used to when there was no certain opening and closing hours at the postoffice.

We understand that John Bowers, who is well known in this county and disappeared from Hall not long ago between two suns, is now located below Atlanta. He went away owing nearly every body he had anything to do with it is said causing them to feel quite "sore" over his disappearance. We learn that Mr. Sanders, of Gainesville, had him arrested and he pulled out the money and settled off with him.

But few farmers can be seen in Dahlonega now. They are anking hay while the sun shines.

If you want to get all the news about Dahlonega send a dollar for a years subscription to the NUGGET.

W. M. Wood, of Payne, Ga., writes us that he gets his paper very irregularly. We can't account for it. It is addressed with a mailer and sent out promptly every week.

Some of the teamsters are hauling freight from Gainesville for 20 cents per hundred. They ought not to do it for it is impossible for them to make a living at it.

There is not a negro in Gaddistown district and if Sam Goodlock of Dahlonega, preaches over there according to announcement, and if the white people fail to attend the services the meeting will be a very small one.

Capt. F. M. Williams is now holding forth at the Dahlonega camp ground until he can get him another house built near town. He owns one in the city but has rented it out, preferring to be off a little distance.

Among the northern visitors that have been visiting Dahlonega this week are D. R. Wright, of Findley, O.; Thos. H. Hicks, Fort Wayne, Ind.; H. A. Conant, Monroe, Mich.; F. G. Thomson, Toledo, Ohio.

Judge Tate at an early date will commence the vault in the court house as recommended by the last grand jury. This is a move in the right direction. It is a very important matter to the county and the earlier it is built the best it will be for us. In case of fire now every book and record of all kinds in the court house would be a total loss except a few that are kept in a small safe in the ordinary's office.

A little dog on the sidewalk leading out Clarksville street going round and round several times the other morning like it was performing in a circus show caused passers by to go another way for awhile thinking that it was mad, but when it got tired of this and started off ciphering—putting down three legs and carrying one—caused much laughter. Had the dog kept up this circuitous route a little while longer it would have been killed and the news would have gone out that a mad dog had been killed in Dahlonega. Some imagined that they saw froth working out of its mouth.

We had the pleasure of shaking hands with Rev. Thos. K. Postell last Saturday for the first time in four years. He thinks of locating here and says that he believes he can accomplish much good in the cause of religion. This noted divine has traveled all through the west, preached to all sorts of people, even to the Indians and has a great deal of experience, understanding pretty well what to say to cause sinners to change their course. If he locates here it may be that a word will fall from his lips that will cause that married sister in Dahlonega to stop making frequent trips out on the streets in order to get to speak to one of her donas or to see if some one else won't make love to her.

Last Sunday night Mandy Williams, a crazy negro left her home about ten o'clock and remained out in the woods until the afternoon of the next day, when she returned home. She ought to receive the attention of the proper officials and be sent where she can be looked after. On the night of her departure Dr. Stow had been called in who gave her one dose of medicine and while preparing another the woman jumped out at a window and went to the woods. The next day nearly every colored person in Dahlonega was out searching in every direction and when they had about decided that she had gone to the creek and ended her troubles the woman came walking in home. When asked where she had been told that she had been sitting out in the woods,

G. G. Evans' announcement for ordinary will appear in next weeks issue.

The annual bed bug killing is occurring this week—preparing for commencement visitors.

A new lot of nice crockery just in, call and examine it.

B. R. Meaders & Sons.

We are glad to state that Mrs. H. D. Gurley who has been so dangerously sick this week is better.

Judge Brittain has just completed a nice fence in front of his residence and added other new improvements about the premises.

For freshest and best fruits candies, raisins, dates and all kinds of nuts, or ice cold drinks, call on Jack Burns at court house hall.

Howard Ash, of Porter Springs, has been awarded the contract of carrying the mail from Dahlonega to that place the next four years beginning first of July.

Col. Farrow will have his telephone line from Porter Springs to Dahlonega completed in six or eight days. He is right along with the workmen giving the job his personal attention.

Remember that Bruce, the photographer, will close out his business here on the 15th inst. and if you desire any first class work done in his line call on him at once before the rush begins.

An effort was made to return the Garnet mine and machinery in this county at $2,500 but Receiver Stargel contended that it was worth at least $10,000 and these figures were placed on the digest and taxes will be paid on this amount.

The trees on the corner of the square at Hall's Villa have been removed causing the cemetery to be in plain view of the court house. Maybe now the sight of two marshals and a cemetery will have a telling effect and cause everybody to behave in Dahlonega.

We can't give the date on which some of our subscribers subscriptions expire for the reason that several have informed us that they will take the Nugget as long as they live and we are unable to know exactly the time they will drop off.

Persons should not subscribe for a weekly paper for less time than six months. For a less time than that it is more trouble to the publisher than it is worth, though we take subscriptions some times for three months in order to accommodate people.

Mr. Tolbert, the street boss, informs us that they are now through working the streets. If this be the case some of us who live in the suburbs will have to work out our own streets, else run the risk of having our legs broken by falling into some of the deep gullies washed out in the roads.

Charlie Hope informs us that the way they kill the potato bugs in Gainesville is to put snuff in a pepper box and sprinkle it over the tops. This should cause all ladies who dip snuff to cease the habit, for when as nasty a thing as a potato bug can't stand it it is time for pretty women to come to a halt.

Some important business changes will take place in Dahlonega right away. The Consolidated Co's store will remain where it is, and the Hall Mds Co's will remain at present stand but go into the hands of the Standard Co., but which company will take hold of all the rest of Capt. Hall's property under option for some time, we are not at this time able to say.

The closing exercises of the Dahlonega Graded School will begin to-morrow at 10 o'clock a. m. Col. W. P. Price will make an address and Col. W. A. Charters will deliver the diplomas, and thus the first session of this noble institution will come to an end. Prof. Martin, and his able and efficient assistants have performed their duties well, accomplished much good, causing each and every citizen to feel proud of their work.

Col. Farrow and the Eclipse.

Last November Col. H. P. Farrow went up from Gainesville to the "Queen of the Mountains", accompanied by Mrs. Farrow, to view in the pure atmosphere the "Meteorite Shower," which had been predicted by the astronomers (but didn't come off) and spent $75 in cutting a splendid road by which to drive in the night to the top of Stone Pile Mountain in order to view the meteoric display from the top of that peak. Stone Pile Mountain (according to the U. S. authorities) is a little over three thousand feet above sea level and towers above everything around it. The Colonel completed his road on time and about midnight he and Mrs. Farrow made their ascent over the new road, by moon-light, and patiently waited and waited and waited for the show until broad daylight but to their great disappointment the performance didn't come off, as advertised. They felt like the Methodist preacher who sent his hat around through the congregation and got nothing in it and thanked God that he got his hat back—they felt thankful that they had the road any how. They at once determined to give the astronomers another trial—give them a chance on the performance advertised for last Monday—the eclipse. Mrs. Farrow however was detained below by sickness and the Colonel had to take it alone. But he was there a little ahead of time, and to the minute, the performance opened; and he is once more feeling kindly to the astronomers. In fact he became a little poetic on the occasion and among other verses quoted the following as strictly applicable to the top of Stone Pile and its environments:

"No city's smoke to mar the sky,
No sound of trade strikes the ear,
The hush of Nature gives the eye
To every thought of turmoil near."
The Colonel seems satisfied now with his seventy-five dollar "Meteorite road", and before the performance closed last Monday decided to grade a road encircling the tip top of Stone Pile Mountain, one-eighth of a mile around the circle, on a dead level, and call it the "Eclipse Drive" because it was inspired by the eclipse and will itself eclipse anything in the way of pleasure and view in any Southern State. We have promised the Colonel to go out and ride an hour or so with him around and around on the circle as soon as it is completed. Long live the Queen of the Mountains!

N. G. A. College Graduates.

The following are the graduates at the present term of college just coming to a close:

Business—R. M. Blount, Miss Maggie Crisson, R. L. Soseboe, W. J. McKee.

Licentiate of Instruction—T. C. McKibben, C. L. Harris, Miss Fannie Gaillard.

Bachelor of Arts—A. W. Cain, H. D. Gurley, Jr., F. H. McClesky, H. L. Peacock, W. M. Smith.

Genuine Persian Insect Powders just received at Insect Drug Co. Now is the time to use them. They have a fresh lot. Also powder guns for using.

One reason the Nugget is thriving so well its editor neither has any pets or bosses, besides we are not afraid or ashamed to work, or do not feel embarrassed in asking for what is due us.

We know of men in Dahlonega who twelve or eighteen months ago could not afford to smoke a cob pipe, who now use from three to four cigars per day. This item alone shows how fast prosperity is moving on to us.

An effort is being made by the merchants to get a rule adopted in Dahlonega to close the stores at 7:30 o'clock. Several have already signed the agreement but we have no idea that all will, if this we have no idea it will not go into effect. This rule works well in a cotton country but we don't believe that it will be satisfactory in a mining town like Dahlonega.

An Interesting Movement.

Your's Companion.
About fifteen hundred Cuban teachers, not many of whom can speak English, are to be brought to this country through the efforts of the American Superintendent of Education in Cuba, and to receive a course of about six weeks study in Harvard University. The university will not only give them the instruction free, but has become responsible for a large sum for their entertainment. Nevertheless, there is no doubt that the money for that purpose will be raised by subscription.

The teachers will be brought to the United States on army transports, and during their stay will be lodged in rooms which the college students have voluntarily yielded up to their use, or as guests at the houses of residence of Boston and Cambridge. Unmistakenly this form of entertainment and lodging will mean more to them, in the way of instruction than even the instruction received in the Harvard summer school. The Cubans are quick and facile, and have an extremely ready faculty of compensation. Little in our life and controlling ideas and principles will escape their observation.

One effort of this movement should be to convince the teachers of American friendliness to Cuba, and it should make every one of them a friend of the United States. A new method in the education of a whole people this "hegira" of Cuban teachers of the last year of the nineteenth century is likely to remain memorable. Great things may in after years be attributed to its influence.

A Card of Thanks.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. D. DORR, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

Never Admit Defeat.

Never admit defeat or poverty though you seem to be down and have not a cent. Stoutly assert your divine right to be a man, to hold your head up and look the world in the face; step bravely to the front whereat opposes and the world will make way for you. No one will insist upon your rights while you yourself doubt that you possess the qualities requisite for success. Never allow yourself to be a traitor to your own cause by undermining your self-confidence.

There never was a time before when persistent, original force was so much in demand as now. The nifty show in the bustling world of to-day. In the twentieth century a man must either push or be pushed.

Every one admires the man who can assert his rights and has the power to demand and take them if denied him. No one can respect the man who slinks in the rear and apologizes for being in the world. Negative virtues are of no use in winning one's way. It is the positive man, the man with original energy and push that forges to the front.—Success.

Last fall I sprained my left hind while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and in half of a 60-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BARBOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

In Augusta it is announced that Census Supervisor Smythe, in making his appointments of enumerators, has named fourteen negroes, three of whom are known to do the work in Augusta.

A Cow For Sale.

Philadelphia News.
Bill Nye once advertised his cow for sale:
"Owing to ill health I will sell at my residence in town 28, range 18, west according to the government survey, one pinched, raspberry colored cow, aged eight years. She is a good milkster and is not afraid of cats—or anything else. She is a cow of undaunted courage, and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her home at present, by means of a trace chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one fourth short horn and three fourths hyena. I will also throw in a double-barreled shotgun, which goes with her. In May she generally goes away somewhere for a week or two, and returns with a full belly and with long waggly legs. Her name is Rose, and I prefer to sell her to a non-resident."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A woman was arrested in Louisville, Ky., the other day for smoking cigarettes on the streets. The magistrate before whom she was giving a hearing said he was "sorry that there was no law under which he could hold her, and that some such measure ought to be enacted."

SHERIFF'S SALES.

Georgia—Lumpkin County.
Will be sold, on the 1st day in June 1900 at public sale, at the court house door in the city of Dahlonega, within the legal hours, of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, the following property to-wit:
Lots of land numbers 723, 984, 1036, 1027, 1061, 1065 and 1069 all in the 11th district and 1st section of Lumpkin county, Georgia, containing in each lot 40 acres more or less. Located on the property of McDuffie R. Moore by virtue of and to satisfy a f. f. issued from the U. S. Court of the 8th district, E. M. in favor of the First National Bank of Gainesville, Ga., vs. McDuffie R. Moore, C. M. Moore and H. D. Thomas as principals and J. C. Brittain as security. Said f. f. being now proceeding for the use and benefit of said J. C. Brittain as aforesaid. Levy made and returned to me by J. C. Williams, L. C.

At the same time and place and upon the same terms town lots of land numbered ninety-nine and one hundred, in the town, now city of Dahlonega, Lumpkin county, Georgia, according to the plan of said town as originally laid out of lot of land No. nine hundred and three in the 12th district and 1st section, said county; together with the tenements and improvements thereon, wherein Mattie E. Thomas and H. H. Thomas and their family now reside. Each lot containing one-fourth of an acre more or less. Said property levied on as the property of Mattie E. Thomas, against an execution issued from the Superior court of said county in favor of Thomas C. Hughes and J. W. Boyd, executors of last will of G. Hughes deceased against Mattie E. Thomas. This May 8, 1900.
J. M. DAVIS, Sheriff.

LOAD NOTICE.

State of Georgia, Lumpkin County.
Whereas certain petitioners have made application to this court praying for an order granting the establishment of a new road commencing at the ford of the Yahoea creek in the Lavada Head farm and running by the way of Andrew Head's house to the old road near the copper cap road, whereas commissioners appointed for the purpose have been received and marked out said contemplated road and reported to me that said road will be of much public utility. Now this is to cite and admonish all persons that on and after the 1st Monday in June 1900, said new road will be granted if no good cause is shown to the contrary. Given under my hand and official signature this 8th day of May 1900.

AN OLD GRIST MILL.

An Old Mill.

The picture above presented is from a photograph taken of the old mill at New Bridge, this county, just before it was torn down about three years ago, to make way for the structure which now takes its place. It was built some time before the war by Matthew Armstrong, who owned and operated it for years, and then disposed of it to Jack Wheelchel, in whose family the title to the property still remain. At the time of its construction, the only railroad in the state was the "State Road," now the Western and Atlantic, and it took long wagon trips to bring supplies from outside. Transportation is now comparatively easy, and Western flour so cheap that there are but few mills in the south, and little wheat grown, though this section still raises its own corn and other food stuffs, and prepares them for consumption. But the old mill did a complete milling business, and was the pride of this section in its time. An evidence of the capacity of our old people to make themselves independent of outside assistance is the fact that all the cogs and pinions were made at home of wood. Corn mill stones were often made of native rock by North Georgians, and on the west bank of the Chestnut, just above New Bridge, there is still a rock, valuable only as a memento of old times, which had been chiseled out on the surface, for use as a mill stone. But the war came and it still stands in its place on the mother ledge.

Tax-receiver Stargel informs us that he will be in town a short while to-day and any one who has not yet returned their taxes can have the opportunity by calling on him. This is the last chance unless you call at his house, as he is going to commence work on his book.

The following visitors of Delaware, O., arrived at Hall's Villa, latter part of last week: F. R. Adams and wife, Miss Julia M. Magrath, J. G. Rosenthal and wife and Miss Blanch Rosenthal. Some of the above visitors have been here frequently before while it is the first trip for others. However all enjoyed our delightful climate and pleasant mountain city.

Four Mormon elders were in Dahlonega a few days ago who claimed to be representing the Lord, but were without money. If the Lord fails to furnish them with something to eat they will be in bad shape, for but few people here feel like feeding them while they tramp about over the country pretending to be preaching. They had better return to their starting point. They are not needed in this country.

Edward Peacock, after being in Dahlonega near twelve months, took his departure for Denver, Colorado, last Saturday. Mr. Peacock has been employed in the assay office of the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. during his stay here and has given a perfect satisfaction as a recommendation given to the gentleman from the general manager of the company shows this to be a fact. As stated last week Mr. Peacock goes to look after some mining property in which he is interested. Mr. J. Phillips is in charge of the assay office now.

An exchange tells of a man in the town who was blessed with twins—both boys. He christened them Peter and Repeater. Another blessing of a like nature occurred something over a year later—both girls, and he named them Kate and Duplicate. But the next case of twins was a puzzle to him for a time, as one was a boy and the other a girl. But the difficulty was overcome by calling the boy Max and the girl Climax.

Last fall I sprained my left hind while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BABCOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by F. W. Hall Mdee Co.

His Lady's Glove.

Much rivalry exists among the students who live in dormitories at the university in the matter of odd decorations for their rooms. One young fellow has a cosy corner which is embellished with girls' gloves. He has them in all sizes, shades and lengths. On a recent Sunday evening he was escorting a young woman home from church, and thought he saw an opportunity to surreptitiously add to his collection. Just in front of her door she slipped and nearly fell, at the same time dropping her pocketbook, handkerchief, gloves and some other small articles she was carrying. The young man promptly returned all these things, except one of the gloves. This he held in his own gloved hand and hastily rammed into his pocket, intending to hang it up in his corner with the others, and tell her afterward. He was chuckling to himself all the evening, but when he reached his room and extracted the treasured glove from his pocket, he was horrified to find that he had picked up a banana skin from the pavement instead. The worst of it was some of his chums were in the room at the time, and of course, the story was too good to keep.—Philadelphia Record.

Editorial game laws are stated by an exchange to be as follows: Book agents may be killed from October 1st to September 1st; spring poets from March 1st to June 1st; scandal mongers from April 1st to February 1st; umbrella borrowers from August 1st to November 1st and from February 1st to May 1st; every man who accepts a newspaper for two years and on being presented with the bill says, "I never ordered it," may be killed on the spot without reserve or relief.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WINSO, Livermore, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by F. W. Hall Mdee Co.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.

The next general examination of applicants for license to teach in the public schools of the state of Georgia will be held on the 15th day of June 1900. The questions will be taken, largely, from the same manual of methods for teachers and the same books and theory and practice as was used last year. All persons desiring to stand said examination in Lumpkin county will meet me in Dahlonega, on the above named date. The Board of Education has ordered the Teachers Institution for Lumpkin county to be held at Dahlonega during the second week in July next. All teachers expecting to teach in Lumpkin county are requested to be on hand by 9 o'clock on the 9th day of said month. J. J. SEABOLT, C. B. C.

An Old Idea.

Every day strengthens the belief of a great physician that impure blood is the cause of the majority of our diseases. Twenty-five years ago this theory was as a basis for the formula of Brown's Iron Bitters. The many remarkable cures effected by this famous old household remedy are sufficient to prove that the theory is correct. Brown's Iron Bitters is sold by all dealers.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

It is said that Gov. Taylor of Kentucky, will not attend the national republican convention for fear of being killed.

The city council of Dahlonega has capped the climax by establishing an ordinance prohibiting the running loose of the geese. If no geese at all are allowed to run at large it must be an awful lonesome town. It would be in some places we know of.—Acworth Post.

At Williamsport, Pa., a condemned murderer of the name of Hummel has sold his body to the manager of a local theater for exhibition purposes. The price he is to receive is a new suit of clothes, a coffin and a grave for final reception of the remains. The enterprising showman is to receive himself, and takes whatever profits he can upon his investment, by exhibiting the body after the hanging.

Last week the revenue officials made a raid in Dawson county, and captured Miller Crain, Jim Crain, B. Dennis and C. E. Crawford in an illicit distillery where there were two large stills in operation contrary to the laws of Uncle Sam. We understand that the first two named already had a similar case each against them and had made an affidavit before Judge Newman that they would not violate the law any more, who suspended their sentences not long since. If this be true the boys will likely be given free transportation to the penitentiary where they will remain for some time to come.

A bow-legged young man of Indianapolis, handsome, wealthy and 25 years of age, was in love with a girl who objected to his legs. He went to the St. Joseph's hospital at Logansport and asked the physicians to break his legs and strengthen them. A surgeon consented. The flesh and skin were cut at the points where the breaks were desired and the bones notched round with a chisel, after which they were easily snapped in two and the limbs placed in plaster of Paris casts. The young man suffered intensely for weeks, but will soon be discharged with straight legs and a full inch taller, when he will marry the girl.—Ex. Great God! what a fool.

If we die to day, the sun will shine as brightly, and the birds will sing as sweetly to-morrow. business will not suspend a moment and the great mass will not bestow a thought upon our memories. "Is he dead?" will be the solemn inquiry of a few as they pass to their work. No one will miss us except our immediate connection, and laugh as merrily as when we sat beside them. Thus shall we all, now active in life, pass away. Our children crowd close behind us and they will soon be gone. In a few years no living being can say "I remember him." We lived in another age and did business with those who slumber in the tomb. Thus is life. How rapidly it passeth.—Blue Ridge Pots.

It is announced by the Chicago Live Stock Journal that the "frog crop," which has grown to considerable proportions under the fostering care of our epicures and others is very promising this season. Less than a quarter of a century ago only a few people ate frogs, but now nearly everybody eat them, and they are a much sought for article of diet. The opinion is advanced that "frog farming is sure to become one of the most profitable of all our small industries, and already quite a large number are engaged in raising frogs for market." Bradstreet tells us that there is a profitable "frog farm" within ten miles of New York city, the owner of which is able to live South during the winter on the profit of the industry.

Mining Notes.

And still gold is being discovered in our town. Most of the material taken from Judge Tate's new well right in the heart of town produces gold.

We have at this office a rock taken from the Stewart mine that is a perfect beauty. It is in the shape of a whet stone 2x7 inches long perfectly speckled with gold. It must be soon to be appreciated.

The work on the canal of the Crown Mountain Co. is moving right along in the usual business like manner. The same can be said of the dam and all other work being carried on by the company.

Mr. Whorton, of the Calhoun mine expects to leave for his home at Spokane, Washington, to be gone a short time. This, however, will not cause work at his mine to suspend as his nephew, Mr. Whorton Anderson will keep the work continuously moving during the owners absence.

Mr. Kingsbury, operating for gold down near Auraria, is moving quietly along, saying little but doing a splendid business in placer mining. His new pump and boiler has just been put in position and works well. Mr. Kingsbury has been engaged in mining in this county for some time. He uses good judgment and where this is done success rarely ever fails to crown an operators efforts.

J. P. Stegall, of Emerson, Ga., made a rich strike on his property last week near Auraria, Ga., causing the gentleman to have a very pleasant appearance. This is excellent property, being one of the best mining lots in the county. It was known to be rich but nothing like this valuable vein was expected to be on it, which no doubt will cause Mr. Stegall to raise his sights a little should he see proper to sell it.

We are a little fearful that certain mining companies in this county have too many high priced bosses to carry on business without crippling it. We don't care what business a man or company follow they must use good judgment and a whole heap of economy to be successful. You may say that it is none of our business, but it is because the success of this county depends greatly upon the mining industry here and if managers pay $2 to get $1 how long will a mine last? Don't all speak at once as time will tell.

The Hand mill is moving right along and the plates show that the experts and assayers examining and testing this property have not been deceived. The vein known as that of the Brewitt still holds out. Just think about it. A vein six feet thick and more than fifty feet broad, assaying twenty dollars per ton. Really it is not known how wide it is as they have been working on it in the tunnel all this width and have not yet cut across it. This itself might be termed as a good gold mine but there are large numbers of other veins on this property down there just as good if not better.

We have received the prospectus of the White County Gold Mining Co. Its pages are few but to the point. As heretofore stated it is capitalized at $500,000 divided into 500,000 shares, par value $1 per share with principal office at Detroit, Mich. The directors being Frank D. Andrus, of Corliss, Andrus & Leete, attorneys, Detroit; C. J. O'Flynn, attorney at law, Detroit; Hermann Day, of the American Exchange National Bank, Detroit; E. C. Reor, vessel owner, St. Clair; Capt. T. W. Hix, manager Sall Mountain Asbestos Co., Nacoochee, Ga.; I. L. Oakes, attorney at law, Cleveland, Ga. The property is known as the Thomson lot, No. 102, 3rd district, White county, near Nacoochee Valley, always considered as very valuable property. One of the members of the company informs us that they expect to have their machinery on the ground and in operation by the first of September.

THE GRADED SCHOOL.

A List of Those Receiving Prizes.

The first session of the Graded School closed last Saturday and as stated before the trustees of the institution and the citizens generally are fully satisfied with the good work accomplished by Prof. Martin and his able corps of assistants, and it is useless for us to say more, only to tell you what was done, as follows:

Grade I. Division: First honor ($2.50 gold coin offered by Col. Charters,) Pearl Rice.

Testimonials of merit (books presented by teacher), Fred Craig (special mention for meritorious work, Laolie Ricketts, Josephine McDonald.

Grade I. Sec. division: First honor (awarded by book for general excellence), Birdie Anderson, Paul Brooksher (special mention,) Maud May Ricketts, Beulah Edwards, Birdie Stumm.

Grade II. First honor prize, Francis Stanton. Testimonials of merit, Irene Moore, Mattie Craig (contestants for honor, Willie Wallace, Ora McKee, Vicie Mae Copeland. Deserving special mention (no testimonial,) Paul Vaughn.

Grade 3.—First honor prize, Pearl Anderson. Testimonial of merit, Nina Wallace.

Grade IV.—First honor prize, Ollie King. Testimonials of merit, May Thomas, Fannie McGuire.

Grade V.—First honor prize, George M. Stanton. Testimonials of merit, Jim Witt (general exercises,) Rosa McDonald (reading.)

Grade VI.—Weir Gaillard. Testimonials of merit, Willie Reese, Howard Stanton, Eliza McAfee, Montie Moore, Florence Rice.

Against the Elections by the People.

At first when it was suggested that judges and solicitors ought to be elected by the people we opposed it for it causes candidates for these positions to mix and mingle with the people in a manner that ought not to occur. Wy, bless your life, as the negro said when he went to eat onions and syrup, "it is mixed up most too much to be good." Not long since we saw a certain official out on the streets talking to all sorts of people who would not have thought of such a thing had he not been wanting office. Read what some of the leading weeklies in Georgia have to say on the subject:

The next legislature should make the initial move toward repealing the law electing judges and solicitors by the people.—Ocala Dispatch.

The next legislature should proceed, in short order, to repeal that judicial election amendment. It won't work.—Darien Gazette.

The general primary on May 15 will go down in history as a warm number. The judiciary should be raised above such a scramble.—Waycross Herald.

Let's have a change in the law electing judges by the people. We want judges who are under no obligations to any man. As judges are plain human beings, they are liable to err on the side of political friends.—Helena Hustler.

The canvass before the people for judges and solicitors will place the successful candidates all over Georgia in awkward positions when they come to mete out justice.—Montgomery County Monitor.

The new law under which judges and solicitors are elected by the people is being given a fair trial this year. We have yet to find a man, who can enthrone over the deplorable state of affairs growing out of the new law, and there are excellent reasons for believing that it will not be a great while before the people will be heard clamoring for another change.—Albany Herald.

Electing judges and solicitors by the legislature was bad enough, but electing them by the people is worse. We are confident that the one trial given throughout the state has fully disgusted the people and that some other plan will be adopted, or eventually it will go back to the legislature. Better that than as now.—Cuthbert Enterprise.

The first election of judges by popular vote is calling for harsh criticism. The character of the campaign has been humiliating to civil people. It has been personal and vindictive. Georgia might make a forward step and bring about substantial improvement by selecting her supreme court judges for life, or behavior, and place the selection of superior court judges in the hands of the higher court. You can't keep a migratory judge out of the jungles.—Madison Advertiser.

Rev. J. N. Austin spent a few hours in Dahlonega first of the week. When asked what the news was in his section said that he believed the devil would get some of the people over there in spite of all that could be done. It's well enough for the devil to have a job. If he didn't have employment he would get lazy.

A negro editor of Augusta came near being lynched the other day on account of an article appearing in the Georgia Baptist concerning the recent lynching of the murderer of Wm. Wilson in that city who was shot down by a black scoundrel because he would not give him his seat on a street car. Let judge elynch continue his good work until the country is rid of men who will commit such acts, either white or black. It is the quickest and best way to get rid of them.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 8, 1900.

Cane Creek postoffice opened last Monday.

R. C. Wood, after an absence of several days in Kansas has returned to Dahlonega.

A fellow remarked the other day that the Nugget was small but "mighty interesting." Many thanks.

Certain postmasters are getting most too careless in mail matters which if continued will to receive our prompt attention.

Col. Lilly seems to have as early vegetables as any of our citizens as he has been eating onions, beans and potatoes for more than a week.

Western miners still continue to arrive in our city. Their views exchanged with the Georgia miner will eventually make it more beneficial to this country.

It is said that some of the sermons delivered by the preachers were getting very "dry." Now that the first ball occurred in the courthouse the other night they will have something to liven up their congregations with.

We understand that there is a certain red headed gentleman in Dahlonega who is "mammas pet" and thinking that he is the savior of the earth who says that he desires to see how many young ladies will get stuck on him. Beware young ladies. All is not gold that glitters.

The other day a certain citizen of Chastatee district asked a minister who had been one of the shining lights of that section for more than twenty years who wrote the first book. The answer was Adam. What about such learned (?) divines as this pretending to be called to preach.

How funny. One of the officials who was around causing people in Dahlonega to remove their water closets from over drains and had one in this position himself, which happened to reach the ears of the chairman of the board of health who ordered it removed. This is very much like some preachers who tell the people that they must get religion when they are destitute of the "article" themselves.

The Cleveland Courier has ceased making its weekly visits to this office. It is now being run by a preacher who we suppose got his feathers turned because we made mention of the so called divine who absented himself and was dropped from the honor roll up there some time ago for stealing a kiss from a young lady. This preacher editor should not fly off of the handle but give the news and not try to conceal such things for some other lady might be imposed upon by some one claiming to be at work for the Lord.

We are informed that the exercises of the young ladies Corona Society were changed a day or night later for the first time in the history of the N. G. A. College so as to avoid the crowd of country people who always attend these interesting exercises in large numbers. We trust that this is not true for there is as good citizens living in the country as reside anywhere on God's green earth, and if there is anything to be seen at this institution those young men and young ladies who wear home knit socks and stockings are just as much entitled to attend as the town folks who encase their feet in silken hose. This is a free institution and no such rules as this should be adopted. We were born and reared in town but we think just as much of the red rosy cheeked country girl who may wear coarse brogan shoes as the one living in town having on nice patent leather slippers fastened with buckles imitation of gold. We say if this is true do away with rules and throw the doors of the college open on all occasions and to every one alike.

Fruit Jars and Jelly glasses at J. H. McKee's.

Everybody and their cousins have been in Dahlonega this week.

Dahlonega is now on a permanent boom and old prosperity is looking up on all sides.

The sham battle Monday, as usual caused a large number of people to come to town.

Compare the Nugget with any other weekly paper and see if it doesn't give more local news than any of them.

Mr. Kerr, who is building the large new hotel for the Consolidated Co. hopes to have it completed by the first of July.

The college band, though not being organized but a short while furnished splendid music for the commencement exercises this week.

Dahlonega has certainly presented a city like appearance this week. All we need now is a railroad and we don't believe it will be long until we get one.

J. N. DuPre is going to occupy the old Baptist church building where he will open out a boarding house and accommodate all that are hungry and need rest.

If you need any gutters or valleys on your house or your roof covered with tin call on J. N. DuPre who will do the work promptly and at prices that will be sure to interest you.

Quite a number of old students who had not been in Dahlonega for many years were back in the city this week. It is useless to say that they are always welcome visitors.

Col. Farrow, was down this week a short while from the Queen of the Mountains conversing with his many friends here about his telephone line and other matters of importance.

Presiding Elder Cook after a tour of about one month over his district returned to Dahlonega this week. Mr. Cook is working mighty hard for us poor sinners and if any of us are lost after the battle of life is ended it won't be this good man's fault.

Tax receiver Stargel makes another request that Justices of the Peace and Notary Publics send in a list of the tax payers of their respective districts in compliance with law. Mr. Stargel says that an act provides for the payment of this work. Now send your list along.

Brethren, what are you going to do with the fellow who has been selling blockade liquor? Are you going to turn him out of the church or are you going to promote him like an official member was not long ago who was found guilty by a jury of his country of fornication and adultery with one of his relatives?

People have been here from all parts this week, not only from this but adjoining counties. Many country lads of sixteen summers or more could be seen taking in the sights of the city hand in hand with their lovers occasionally exchanging their chewing gum from ones mouth to the other. This is what you might call true happiness.

We are reliably informed that work will soon begin on the electric car line from Gainesville to Dahlonega. We trust that there is no mistake about it and that there will be no further delay for the people of our city are becoming very impatient about this matter. The information we received is this: That an electrician has already been engaged to do the work.

We received a copy of the District Messenger this week published by Rev. Wallace Rogers at Blue Ridge, Ga. It is only about six months of age and published at the low price of 25 cents per annum but still the editor has a notice to delinquent subscribers. A man that won't pay a preacher 25 cents for a paper, especially when they pretend to be Christians ought to have a coal of fire placed on his back and made to move.

Wild lands sold well Tuesday.

The stores in Dahlonega will not close at 7:30 as was desired by some.

Lemons, fish, sausage or most anything you want at Copelands. Prices right always.

Wm. Thomas, a typo in the Dawsonville Advertiser office dropped in to see us Wednesday.

Daily mail to Porter Springs now which will carry the news on fast time by mule back until the telephone line is completed.

Col. V. S. Lusk, of Asheville, N. C., and W. G. Candler, of Candler, N. C., were here on a business trip this week to Dahlonega.

Our old friend F. D. Boatfield is still confined to his room, having been so for quite a while. He is very old and feeble but we trust that he will yet recover and be able to be out again soon.

It was right amusing the other day to see four young men from the country pass down the street hand in hand with a great big piece of liguish in their mouths, singing "Play on your harp, little David."

Your attention is called to the advertisement of G. W. Lefurgey who has some valuable mineral property to sell down in Dawson county. If you desire to buy a gold mine now is your opportunity.

A patron residing at Hoscht, Ga., in renewing his subscription to the Nugget this week writes as follows: "We are delighted with the Nugget. Only one trouble—every one wants to read it just as soon as it comes." Thanks.

Ye editor is eating strawberries and growing much fatter and prettier but none of the females must fall in love with him as he is married and does not belong to the church or any society and has no screen to hide him from the outside world, and therefore is at the mercy of all.

John Woodall got so full the other day that he became blood thirsty and wanted to fight. Mayor Price occupied the chair long enough to put on the finishing touch which will not be forgotten by John for some time as he was given a set of rooms in the calaboose for quite a while.

Your attention is directed to the announcement of G. G. Evans who is a candidate for the office of ordinary of this county. Mr. Evans is no stranger to the people of Lumpkin county and it is a well known fact that his qualifications are such that he will fill the office with entire satisfaction if elected.

Henry Asbury, of the firm of F. L. Asbury & Bro., of Clarksville, Ga., dropped in to see us Wednesday to renew his subscription to the Nugget. Henry is an old student of the college here, who takes pleasure in visiting the school grounds where he has spent so much happiness in the days of long ago, and it is always a pleasure for us to meet him.

The two morman brothers who visited Yahola district the other day didn't meet with much encouragement. They got so hungry that you could tap them with your hand and they would rattle like an old dry raw hide. They could not even get a place to lodge and had to sleep in the church known as Straight Gap, where they were greeted with a small audience later on through curiosity more than anything else.

The entertainment of the young ladies Corona Society was a grand success last Tuesday night as has always been the case, for ladies never make a failure in anything they undertake. The college hall was filled to its utmost capacity with all sorts of people from different places for miles around. The hall presented a perfect mass of human beings filling it so that not even standing room could be had, some lovers of money disposing of their seats at from five cents on up to fifteen. Nothing like this has ever occurred here before.

The census enumerators are on the go now.

As soon as you wed subscribe for the Nugget and be happy.

The building boom is still on and the saw mill men look happy.

Don't sneak around and talk about the Nugget editor and then go and borrow and read the paper.

Tom Anderson, a colored lad yet in his teens, was bound over last Saturday by Com. Baker, charged with selling liquor.

Mrs. Thomas Stringer, one of the oldest ladies in the county died on Thursday of last week in the eastern portion of the county.

Misses Sallie Seabolt and P. Puckett, after taking in commencement exercises returned to their homes in White county last Thursday.

The schoolboys saved over enough blank cartridges from the sham battle the other day to keep the marshals awake Friday night. Oh how naughty.

Did you get a card inviting you to go to a certain firm in Dahlonega and take a free glass of coco-cola? Some few of the ladies did but they didn't care to indulge.

The June list of new subscribers to the Nugget is rapidly increasing which shows that the people desire the local news of Dahlonega and surrounding country in an unvarnished state.

A certain married couple in Dahlonega are about to dissolve co-partnership just because a young man was seen stooping over the wife's shoulders trying to teach her how to play the piano. How strange some people are about their wives taking music lessons.

As we have said before if you wish to advertise where it will do you the most good place your ad. in the Nugget. It has the largest circulation of any paper published in Lumpkin county. If not we will publish your ad. twelve months free of charge. Isn't this a fair proposition?

Tax Receiver Stargel is endeavoring to get a true return of all the real estate in Lumpkin county. For years certain 40 acre lots of mineral property have been returned at $100 each where the owners held the property away up into the thousands, causing the receiver to move in the direction he has.

Remember that G. D. Bruce will close out his business on the 15th inst., and if you desire any good photographic work now is the time. We say without fear of contradiction that Mr. Bruce has given better satisfaction in this line of work than any one who has ever visited Dahlonega—Atlanta photographers not excepted. If it was not true and we didn't believe it we would not say so.

With sad feelings we have to chronicle the sudden death of the little eighteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Castleberry which occurred last Monday evening at 10 o'clock. The little girl had been enjoying its usual health up to a few hours before its death when it had a convulsion and grew worse and worse until death released it of all its suffering.

Ross Thomas, George Bell, John Whelchel and his wife and Thomas Moore and his children, all of Anniston, Ala., came up and took in commencement. Mr. Whelchel and his lady will remain in Dahlonega for a week or ten days yet. Most of the party used to reside in Dahlonega and their numerous friends here were glad to see them all back with us once more. As they were about to reach Dahlonega on Friday night the team ran off of the bridge just this side of the old Besser Spring, the back tongue broke and all four of the horses tumbled over into the ditch in a pile. Fortunately the brakes were thrown on just in time to prevent the vehicle from following, thus preventing a serious accident. It required near an hour to get the animals out, but strange to say not a single one appeared to be injured.

Commencement N. G. A. College.

Saturday night the commencement exercises opened with the "B" class declamations. The eight speakers—seven boys and one girl who had previously won speakers' places delivered some splendid selections in an interesting and impressive manner. Two beautiful gold medals had been offered for the best speakers of this class and while it was not possible for all to receive these shining rewards each speaker did make an effort that was worthy of credit both for himself and the institution.

Sunday morning the annual sermon was preached at the college chapel by Rev. J. A. Wynne, of Gainesville. The sermon was a strong argument to prove the divinity of Christ. The minister first presented the different notions about Christ, then drawing the proper contrasts and backing up his statements by the Bible arrived at the conclusion that Christ was more than a great philosopher or prophet—that he is God.

Sunday night Rev. Mr. Wynne preached another sermon equally as good as the one preached in the forenoon.

Monday morning the six speakers from "A" class contested for two gold medals. There were no girls in this contest and each boy made an heroic effort to win the prize. There can be no more pleasing sight than to see young minds contending with each other for victory, and the audience that listened to the speeches of those young men will hear from them again in days to come.

Monday evening the sham battle took place. This battle is always one of the most interesting features of commencements. The artillery was stationed near the base of Crown Mountain and attacked on the north by the infantry. For twenty minutes the battle raged while hundreds of anxious spectators watched the interesting scene. At last the artillery squad was routed and their cannon and ammunition captured by the attacking party. A succession of powerful yells announced that the victory was won.

Monday night nine members of Freshman class—two of them girls—contested for a first and second prize offered for the best speakers of that class. There were many good speeches that it was difficult to decide who were entitled to the prizes. The college chapel was so badly crowded with people that it was very uncomfortable inside and the audience was very lavish of cheers for the speakers.

Tuesday morning the champion debate took place between the Decora Palaestra and Phi Mu societies. This is always the most exciting part of commencement. Long before the debate began the societies assembled in the chapel and caused the hall to echo with their loud cheers and anxious shouts. Many blue and many white flags waved in the air as the audience cheered on the debaters to the great struggle. The subject debated was: "Resolved, That the United States should own and operate all railroads that carry the mails within the United States."

The affirmative was represented by A. W. Cain and F. H. McClesley, Decora. The negative by H. D. Gurley, Jr. and C. Shetiz, Phi Mu. After a hotly contested debate for two hours the judges decided in favor of the negative.

Tuesday evening the battalion of cadets assembled on the drill field for the purpose of having a prize drill. "B" company was drilled for several minutes and then it was allowed to retire and "A" company was put in the field. When the contest was completed it was decided that "A" company was entitled to the prize. The cadets then marched away from the field and deposited their guns in the armory where they will rest in peace until the opening of a new term of college.

Tuesday night the Corona society gave an entertainment at the chapel. The exercises consisted of three parts. "Songs of seven" made up the first part, "Deception" the second part and "Roveries of a Bachelor" the third part. All the different characters played their parts well and the occasion was one of enjoyment to all who attended, although the chapel was much too small to seat everybody present.

Wednesday morning the sophomore declamation and junior oration contests took place. All the declamations were well committed and well delivered. Only one young lady graced the stage upon this occasion while there were seven times as many young men in the contest. The juniors wrote their own orations. All orations being beautifully composed and showed distinct traces of thinking minds. It is a delightful thing to hear a junior do his best on an oration.

Wednesday morning the "Blue List" was issued giving the names of all students who made 90 or above for the entire year. Forty-nine students had their names on the list.

Wednesday night closed the college year. The exercises consisted of eight speeches by members of the graduating class. These orations were written by the students who delivered them and were well worthy an important place in the college program. There was a gold medal offered for the best oration but each member had a higher incentive than a gold medal. They cherished loft ideals that will doubtless lead them to do golden deeds in the future. After the speeches President Stewart called on the twelve graduates and delivered their diplomas. They are as follows: Bachelor of Arts Course: A. W. Cain, H. D. Gurley, Jr., F. H. McClesley, H. L. Peacock and W. M. Smith. Licentiate of Instruction course: A. W. Cain, Miss Fannie Gaillard, C. L. Harris and F. G. McKibben. Business course: R. M. Blount, Miss Maggie Crissom, W. J. McKee and R. L. Sosebee.

Then S. A. Harris delivered the Decora Society diplomas to the seven members that graduated from that society. C. Shultz delivered to the three members that graduated from the latter society. Miss Blanch Gurley delivered Corona diplomas. Then came the delivery of medals. Their winners are as follows: "B" declamation medal: J. S. Grant. "A" declamation, first prize, H. L. Newton; second prize, M. A. Richards. Freshman declamation: first prize, I. O. Parker; second prize, Miss Blanch Gurley. Sophomore declamation: first prize, W. H. Berry; second prize, P. J. Horton. Junior oration medal: S. A. Harris. Company medal: "A" Company. Senior oration medal: F. H. McClesley. Target practice medal: H. L. Peacock. Gurley essay medal: T. C. McKibben. Rico Latin medal: Miss Marie Gaillard. Clark mathematic medal: J. W. West. Tate science medal: H. L. Peacock.

The Phi Mu Society presented Miss Maggie Crissom with a Phi Mu badge. The Sigma Nu fraternity presented Miss Fannie Gaillard and Miss Maggie Crissom with their fraternity badges.

The benediction was pronounced and after many hand shakes and affectionate farewells the audience retired to their respective places of abode and thus ended our last commencement in the nineteenth century.

Col. W. S. Huff has our thanks for a mess of green beans, being the first and only one who has so kindly remembered us in the way of vegetables this season. May he live long and prosper and wear a starry crown when the battle of life is ended, notwithstanding it has been said that but one lawyer and editor have yet succeeded in reaching that beautiful land on high, but who knows? The program may be so arranged that Will and the writer may be admitted, green beans or no green beans.

The "Boy" Thomas property was bid off last Tuesday by Col. R. H. Baker and merchant H. D. Gurley, who gave $505.

HIS THREE WIVES.

They Were All In One Picture, But Did Not Stay There.

Allan Cunningham, in his "Lives of British Painters," tells a story of Copley, the father of Lord Chancellor Lyndhurst, which reveals what a portrait painter endures from the vanity and eccentricity of his sitters.

A certain man had himself his wife and seven children painted by Copley in a family piece.

"It wants but one thing," said the man, on seeing the finished picture, "and that is the portrait of my first wife—this one is my second."

"But," replied the artist, "she is dead. What can I do? She must come in as an angel."

"Oh, no; no angels for me. She must come in as a woman."

The portrait was added, but several months elapsed before the man again called at Copley's studio, and when he did, a strange lady held out to him.

"I must have another sketch from your hand, Copley," said he. "An accident befell my second wife; this lady is my third, and she has come to have her likeness included in the family picture."

The painter introduced the likeness of wife No. 3, and the man expressed himself satisfied with the portraits of his three spouses. But the lady remonstrated. Never was such a thing heard of. Her predecessors must go. The artist painted them out; then the man dictated the price. Copley sued him, and his son, the future Lord Lyndhurst, signaled his call to the bar by gaining his father's cause.

One of War's Heroines.

Mrs. Annie Wittenmyer, who died last week at Saratoga, Penn., raised and distributed during the civil war over $130,000 worth of supplies for the soldiers. It was said of her that "she often rode along the front lines of battle, in order to gather up and care for the wounded as they fell."

She gained a national reputation as the originator of the special diet kitchens, a special system by which the sick in the hospitals could have food and delicacies prepared for them in the same manner as if they were being cared for in their own homes. It was while in the hospitals at Chattanooga, in the winter of 1863-64, that she carried out her long cherished plan of supplying food for the men whose conditions in the hospital was the most serious. The government furnished the staple articles and the Christians commission provided the delicacies and cordials and the nurses to superintend the kitchens.

These diet kitchens were first introduced in the department of the Cumberland and in that of the Mississippi, and with such excellent results that Mrs. Wittenmyer was urged to establish them in the army of the Potomac, which she did in the winter of 1864. This branch of the hospital service has become permanent, and is recognized by the government officials in this country as almost indispensable in time of war. In our recent conflict with Spain the system was carried out wherever it was possible to conduct it.

Prof. Stewart, president of the N. G. A. College, states to us that our informant last week was mistaken about the entertainment of the Corona Society being changed from Monday night until Tuesday night in order to avoid the rush of country people. It was done in order to meet the conveniences of those interested. We are glad to make this correction for the "farmer feeds them all," and us too, and we could not get along without them, their sons, daughters and wives.

Living in the Country.

The fact is that, while the farm promises no large profits except to men who situation is favorable, yet the business of farming does provide a comfortable living and something over. It can be engaged in on a very small capital or no capital but muscle. A living is sure, no matter how small the farm, a man who is for enough along to have as much as $8,000 invested can bring up a family comfortably and make money besides in the South. The great trouble in the cotton States is the lack of scientific agriculture. The farmer usually has no business training at all; he rarely keeps books; he works too much by fits and starts, and he seldom diversifies his crops. Those who do so and who make "every edge out that can," as the merchant, the manufacturer and the laborer in the city do, can make money. There are too few farmers, indeed, who stick to their business as closely as the ordinary city man and his employees, who never quit work on a rainy day, and whose holidays are confined to a week or two in midsummer.—EX.

Saved by a Laugh.

A professional nurse at Leeds, England, was remarkably successful in the care of patients suffering from smallpox, diphtheria or pneumonia. In fact, she had never lost a patient with one of these complaints. Not long ago, however, she had a pneumonia case which was given up by the physician, much to the nurse's chagrin. "He can't live through the night," said the doctor.

Sure enough, when the nurse went to give the sick man his medicine, he only shook his head. The distracted nurse saw he pruned record about to be broken and she urged the patient to take his dose.

"No use," he murmured. "Well, sir," said the nurse in despair, "you've got to take it! And if you die I'll kill you!"

Whereupon the patient began to laugh, took his medicine and got well.

Mobile Register: Some Louisiana politicians propose the repeal of the clause of the constitution of the state requiring the payment of poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in that state. It is said the object is to get the negro back into politics; that the negro is useful; he can be bought or counted if the poll tax is lifted; and the politicians have need of him.

Politics are getting mixed up in Lumpkin county. Very few have yet announced subject to the democratic primary while quite a number of independents are going to be in the field. Even some of the democrats are opposed to primaries for county officers.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When it came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McGarry's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Livestockman, Burgessstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

Some people were here last week from North Carolina buying real estate.

J. F. MOORE

Dry Goods, Hats, Shoes, Hardware, Etc.

A Newspaper of Colonial Days.

We have just read a copy of one of the oldest newspapers in America. It is the Boston Gazette of May 12, 1770, "containing the freshest advices, foreign and domestic." A full account of the Boston massacre is printed in the four three column pages. Its tone is in harmony with the rebellious spirit of the times against the unjust taxation of a despotic monarch. Bitter as the people seemed, however, they were not yet ready to throw off the yoke. They only wanted the right of self government.

By a perusal of its editorial page it is seen that men fought with the pen even at that early date. One article is directed against a man who signed himself "Bostonian" in the Chronicle, another paper.

In the same paper is published a resolution boycotting English goods, which had been passed by the town people. The names of persons who refused to abide by the agreement are published and people warned against trading with them.

A very graphic account of the Boston massacre is given, surrounded by broad black borders.—Portland Telegram.

Peace at Any Price.

Two old ladies were next to each other in a station box. One of them wished to have the window shut, the other to have it open; the conductor was called to decide the question. One said if it were open she would catch cold and die; the other said if it were shut she would die of apoplexy.

The conductor did not know what to do, when an old man, who had been sitting quiet in a corner, said: "Open the window, friend that will kill one of them. Then shut it and we shall be rid of the other and have some peace."—London Answers.

Last fall I sprained my left hind while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BARCOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS.

The next general examination of applicants for license to teach in the public schools of the state of Georgia will be held on the 10th day of June, 1900. The questions will be taken, largely, from the same manual of methods for teachers and the same books and theory and practice as was used last year. All persons desiring to stand said examination in Lumpkin county will meet me in Dahlonega, on the above named date. The Board of Education has ordered the Teachers Institution for Lumpkin county to be held at Dahlonega during the second week in July next. All teachers expecting to teach in Lumpkin county are requested to be on hand by 9 o'clock on the 10th day of said month.

J. J. SEARIGHT, C. S. C.

An Old Idea.

Every day strengthens the belief of eminent physicians that impure blood is the cause of the majority of our diseases. Twenty-five years ago a theory was used as a basis for the formula of Brown's Iron Bitters. The many remarkable cures effected by this famous old household remedy are sufficient to prove that the theory is correct. Brown's Iron Bitters is sold by all dealers.

THE NUGGET.

Entered at the Postoffice at Dahlonega, Ga., P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Angelo by the name of Vick Akery is a candidate for clerk of the Superior Court in White county.

The census enumerator of the Home district has found a negro woman of forty-five, the mother of nineteen children.

The Cleveland Courier has again made its appearance on our table and we greet it with pleasure as it is a right interesting sheet—small, though to the point.

The total casualties to the American troops in the Philippines since August 6th 1898, including killed, died of wounds and accidents and died of disease 2,220. Wounded 2,152.

It seems that Atlanta's mayor—Mr. Woodward—has been having a high old time in that city judging from the testimony given in against him during the investigation, by getting drunk and making calls on lewd women. Very nice roster for a mayor.

The Wiregrass Blade of last week gave an account of the death of George McGar down in Emanuel county the other day caused by eating ice cream. Several others are seriously ill from eating it. This should be a warning to all ice cream eaters as poison often originates by cooling the custard for the ice in tin vessels.

There are a number of our citizens wanting an office but they wish to wait awhile and see if possible whether a majority of voters are against primaries or not. Some say that they will not support any one who puts his name before the primary; and others assert that they will not support an independent. So here it goes.

An exchange says that the merchant who wants newspaper men to roast grocery peddlers, cheap John stores and patent medicine shows, would make publishers feel more like doing so if they would quit using baking powder letter heads, wholesale gawdier oil envelopes and axel grease statements, and patronize home printing offices.

The Jasper Republican is before us again, being the first time in quite a while. Its pages brightly flash with strong editorials in behalf of the republicans—none other—does not favor the republicans of Georgia giving the populist any assistance by fusing with them in the state ticket. Its editor doesn't wish to sop out of the same political dish with other parties. Wants whole hog or none—a division of parties not preferred.

White county is full of candidates. Col. Joe Underwood and Mr. West, who last represented that county, are in the field for the legislature. We do not know which one will get the plum as we have seen parties that are opposed to either. A man told us the other day that he would not vote for Mr. Underwood for reasons not given, and would not help Mr. West because he decided his farm to his wife and swallowed the paupers oath so as to get a $600 pension from the state.

The DeKalb County Standard strikes the nail on the head in the following paragraph about the South African war: The South African war is now thought to be about over. Strong efforts are being made to draw the United States into complications with reference to the terms of peace. But we do not believe that such a proposition can be seriously considered by the American people. We have troubles of our own to look after and they bid fair to be some time in process of settlement. If we can pacify the Philippines in the course of the next few years we will do well without trying to control the earth. That we succeeded beyond our expectations in our little "scrap" with Spain, should not blind our eyes to the consequences of indiscriminate war.

Mining Notes.

The Stewart still holds out good. A gentleman, who is acquainted with this mine told us that he was satisfied he could make from $10 to $15 a day with a pan and mortar.

A large number of western miners are here now and every one that comes expresses himself as being surprised at both the quantity and quality of gold ore being found in Lumpkin county.

Work is progressing on the 16t formerly owned by editor McIntosh, now controlled by a Mr. Greenfield. They are down on a twenty or thirty foot vein in a shaft about 150; with steam pump and hoisting apparatus. One splendid.

Lot 810, is being worked under the supervision of Dr. Craven, of Chicago. The first clean up took place a few days ago and the result was 400 pennyweights—a ten stamp mill only run during the day. Really only eight stamps were run.

The placer diggings on the Briar Patch are showing up well. A month's clean up the other day of two hands made 280 pennyweights of gold. This is a fine showing but no surprise to those acquainted with the diggings of the Briar Patch.

The contract for the building of the Standards big 120 stamp mill has not been let yet, but bids are being received and ample time will be given to consider them so as to give the contract to the most responsible company, which can not be done in a day or week for the construction of a mill like this is no little job.

Just after the rich strike was made on the Stegall property last week the owner was called away home on special business but will be back again right away. No doubt Mr. Stegall went away feeling better than he did when he came as the bright and shining metal was so plentiful in the vein that it was deemed best to guard it at night.

Z. B. Hargrove, who has mining interests in this county, was expected here some days ago to go to work, was recently slightly paralyzed and there is no telling now when he will be here. Mr. Hargrove owns property adjoining and upon the same belt of the Stewart mine in the lower part of the county, which is so rich. Causing us to desire to see work begin on the Hargrove property.

As everybody nearly throughout the whole country are interested in the big mining operation down at the Hand we will begin next week and keep our readers posted each week as to what they do down there. Now if you wish to hear from it those not already taking the Nugget should send us a dollar and those already taking it should examine the labels on their paper and renew promptly when their subscriptions expire as we will discontinue sending them otherwise.

T. R. Clemons, of Glades, Hall county, Ga., was in Dahlonega last week with a view of buying a second handed old fashion mill such as those being dispensed with by the Consolidated or some other company in this county, to put up at the Glades. Mr. Clemons has 6000 acres of land under his control in that vicinity. For years placer mining only has been done on some of the property, giving such satisfactory results that Mr. Clemons thinks that vein mining will pay there and is making a move in that direction. We wish him success in his new undertaking.

It is claimed by the manufacturers of the gold machinery now in use by the Consolidated Company that it will save 95 per cent of the metal. Mr. Peacock who was in the employ of this company assaying the different ores of the same for twelve months, remarked recently just before he departed for Colorado that if the machinery only saved 40 per cent of the gold at the Hand that it would pay. Mr. Peacock has traveled all through other mining countries, examined them well, has been engaged in assaying for nearly a quarter of a century, understands his business thoroughly and knows what he is talking about, and such a remark as this coming from a man of so much experience as Mr. Peacock, should cause the owners of this mine to feel very much encouraged, as well as others having any interest in the prosperity of Lumpkin county.

For years they have been using a Huntington mill down at the Betz mine near Auraria doing well but we understand that they anticipate putting up a stamp mill, believing doubtless, that this kind of a mill will still be more satisfactory. At last accounts their shaft was more than 250 feet deep and the ore still good. This proves that deep mining is just the same in this as any other country—the deeper they go the richer and larger the veins grow. Look at the Hand mine for instance. Every vein gone down on proves this to be a fact. There is the Provvitt vein when first discovered the veins were small and scattered like the branches of a tree. Since going down on them all the branches have come together, being a mass of ore of the consolidated veins six feet thick and it is not yet known how wide, as they have cut more than fifty feet and still not across it. This vein assays $27 per ton.

Both Mr. Ross, of Toledo, Ohio, and Mr. Schutt, of Spencerville, Indiana, stockholders of the Consolidated and Standard Co's, have spent several days in Dahlonega since our last issue. We had a call from Mr. Schutt, who says that he has the utmost confidence in their new enterprise. He has had a good deal of experience in mining in the west and knows what he is talking about when you converse with him about a gold mine. Mr. Schutt in speaking of the mines here said that he never saw any in the west or anywhere else that compare with the mines of Lumpkin county. This is the way all the visitors to Dahlonega, with any mining experience at all talk, and all of them could not possibly be mistaken. Both of these gentlemen spent their time while here in looking over various mining properties and viewing the country generally, who did not hesitate in saying that they were perfectly delighted with it and felt confident that our city would increase in population to several thousand in the near future.

The big shaft down at the Hand has reached a depth of about 80 feet, two big arms of ore having been cut through. Work had to be suspended on it recently long enough to build a shaft house and put in the hoister. The workmen are moving right along with the building, the dimensions of which are about 40x80 60 feet high. The air compressed drills were put in operation last week in some of the tunnels and are doing rapid work, enabling the miners to tear out tons and tons of ore in a few hours at a single place, pieces of rock blasted out some times are so large that the drills and dynamite have to be used on them twice so they can be burst up to enable the miners to get them to the mill. They are wonderful labor saving machines. In fact the company makes it a point to put in machinery at every point so as to save as much hard labor as possible, reducing the expenses very much, thus enabling them to mill ore so much cheaper than by the old system of mining. By this means they can make very low grade ore pay handsome profits that could not be handled with any profit at all under the former manner of mining. For instance take the present 120 stamp mill which requires the labor of only four men to look after the feeders that run the entire mill. Under the old system it would have required twelve men to throw the ore in with a shovel every slow process, indeed, saving nothing of the increased amount of ore that can be so much more easily milled under the new system.

Mr. Francis, manager of Hall's Villa, after an absence of several weeks in the north, returned to his place of business last Wednesday.

Dr. Howard was out on the streets one day this week for the first time in months. All were glad to meet this good old man once more.

The many friends of John Hynds regret to learn that he was stricken with paralysis in Gainesville Monday and has been at the point of death ever since.

A supper will be given on the night of the 22nd at the old Cartledge drug store stand, the proceeds of which will be used in the repairing of the colored Baptist church in Dahlonega.

Bear in mind that it will cost you $3.00 for your announcement from now till the election, without tickets, or the same price if your name just appears in one issue of the paper before the election. Delay saves you no money.

We regret to learn that our friend Thomas V. Cantrell, of White county who was down here last week has since received a telegram stating that his son Eugene was killed in a railroad wreck in Michigan on Sunday morning about 1 o'clock.

Some one stole a suit of clothes out of J. H. McKee's wagon which was in Gainesville Tuesday night, belonging to a young man by the name of R. R. Christy who was coming to Dahlonega to work. The thief also carried off a box of candles belonging to Mr. McKee.

Plain white null India linen 6 to 21c. Fine perfumes 50c size only 25c. Rochester lamp chimneys for large lamps 30c., will last longer than the 25c. ones. 2 lbs. oat meal 9c, 3 packs for 25c. Beauty plus 1c. Eight day clocks with alarm $2.15. Beautiful quilt edge handkerchiefs 24c. All at B. R. Meaders & Sons. They sell for cash but their price is the lowest to be found at any place in this section.

A man by the name of Blalock, of Kentucky, bruised up Alfred White last Sunday in Chestnut district pretty badly. It was at the house of preacher West. Both were paying their respects to the ministers daughter which caused the row. Blalock snapped his pistol twice at White and also at Mr. West, but it failed to fire and he let in on White otherwise, Blalock was at work on Crown Mountain ditch. He got his time and left out.

A Card of Thanks.

We extend to the many kind citizens of Dahlonega our heartfelt sympathies who rendered us all the aid in their power during the sickness and death of our child, trusting that we may all be prepared when the journey of life is ended to go and be at rest with little Margaret in that bright and beautiful world on high where sorrow and trouble are not known. # THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 15, 1900.

And it still rains almost every day causing the farmers to look sour.

John Moore thinks of making the race for clerk of the Superior court again.

The Baptist church bell is now swinging in the tower of the new building.

Many of the farmers in this county are considerably behind with their work on account of so much rain.

Prof. Vickery and lady will leave for Hartwell to-day quite likely where they will spend some time with relatives.

Prof. Palmour is with the old folks at home now in Dawson taking a rest from his school labors in Dahlonega.

The funeral of W. M. Simmons will be preached at Mt. Zion on the first Sunday in July by Rev. J. J. Gilreath.

Our hotels still continue to present a lively appearance, caused by the many visitors who are coming here from all parts of the country.

Look at the date on your paper and see if your time has expired, and renew at once if you want to continue reading the NUGGET. Else it will be stopped.

The census enumerator is now on his round and it is troubling some of the old ladies to remember how many chickens and eggs were produced on their place in the last twelve months.

Remember if you want your picture "struck" you had better call on G. D. Bruce today if you desire a good job as he closes out his gallery to-night and will go into a different business until he can get a suitable place to build a gallery.

There was a big colored meeting at Cleveland last Sunday and every darkie that could get a horse and buggy or any kind of a vehicle except a wagon (for a negro won't carry his girl to meeting in a wagon) was there from Dahlonega.

Ross Thomas, Geo. Bell, Thomas Moore and John Wheelchel, of Aniston, Ala., all paid their respects to the NUGGET office while up on a visit last week. They used to be Dahlonega boys and they are always heartily welcomed to our place of business.

Prof. Ansted has proven himself to be a splendid gardener this year as can be seen by any one going out to his new home. He makes it a point to have every thing planted that is raised in a garden. He has the nicest lot of vegetables ever grown in a new garden. When the Professors college duties are over for the day he idles away no time but returns to his home and endeavors to do something that will beautify the premises.

There is a gentleman by the name of Jones who has moved a steam saw mill down below Auraria that is a hustler, and if we had more such mill men as Mr. Jones there would not be such a cry for lumber in Dahlonega. Last Saturday he came up and contracted to furnish J. E. Moore 20,000 feet of lumber right away, and Monday at 3 o'clock he had 1,500 feet of it. Besides this he got an order from the Consolidated Co. to furnish them 200,000 feet. This shows how active laborers are rewarded.

There was a remonon of the Franklin and Becks of Mechanicsville, in the mayor's office last Monday caused by a family row. Those that had not been fighting were witnesses and the crowd numbered more than twenty. This case was not tried behind closed doors as the defendants, witnesses, marshal and jurors filled the room to its full capacity and there was no chance for any more present. It was the biggest court that has yet been held here by Mayor Price. In a long time. Small fines was imposed upon three or four who were found to be guilty.

There is not a single tannery in Lumpkin county. It looks to us that at least one would pay.

Remember that we do not ask our home merchants a cent for their ad, unless it benefits them.

When our old friends visit Dahlonega they rarely ever fail to find their way down to the NUGGET office. John Jackson, of Pickens county, was among the number last Monday.

We are glad to see such men as Col. V. S. Lusk, of Asheville, N. C., becoming interested in Lumpkin county's real estate. It means business which will not fail to benefit us all.

We were glad to observe our old friend Rice Arrondale of Auraria, able to be up to see us all the other day after a long confinement by sickness at home, conversing with his many friends as usual.

V. R. Hicks is going to run for the office of treasurer he thinks. If he makes the race it will not be a still one but he intends to let everybody know it through the NUGGET.

When the Phi Mu boys won the speakers prize last week they sent a message to their old school mate Lient. F. L. S. Price, who is in the Philippine Islands, and who used to belong to this society.

Peter Peck, who used to be one of the oldest cobs in the block-ading business living in Lumpkin county, was up before Judge Baker last Monday charged with making liquor again but was acquitted and went home with a smile so broad that both ears were displaced for awhile.

Some days ago, it is said that a certain bailiff in this county after arresting a fellow for breaking into house, got drunk. Then soon after carrying the defendant before the Notary Public for trial all three got drunk and the officer decided that he had no right to try a person for this offense and they turned him loose. Such officers are smart enough to go to congress.

Dogs are raising trouble among neighbors around New Bridge. Mrs. Jim Cochran has a loaded gun for the dog which killed a half dozen of her sheep the other night, and Robert Burns is mourning the loss of a female dog which was shot by one unknown. The shots accompanied the dogs howl of distress, appeared to come from Colonel Tom Norris' smoke house but the Colonel denies the impeachment.

If you wish to make a praying person out of any one manage to have them put in jail and the Lord will receive more attention than at any time before. The other day while passing the prison in Dahlonega the negro therein was praying a prayer that could have been heard half a mile. The negro was either excited or had an idea that the Lord was in the act of losing his hearing because the jail door didn't open and set him free. We thought if that negro had to stay in prison until our Master opened the door he would remain there until the ants carried him out at the key hole. It is strange that some people have such foolish notions.

Last Sunday Harry Richardson, col., of White county, was shot in one of his thighs by Alvonia Coffee, another negro residing in White, who had gone up to Dahlonega to attend the big meeting and his step-mothers funeral which took place at Cleveland last Sunday. It is said that a number of them got to drinking, as usual on big days like this, and Coffee and one or two of them fell out and they undertook to make our Dahlonega darkey "burn the wind," when he pulled out his pistol and fired with the above results and left out in double quick order. Had Alvonia not met up there on such a solemn occasion that day he might have shot this negro in the heart instead of the leg, causing two funerals instead of one that day.

All the candidates should have their photographs taken now. Because some of them will present a better appearance before the election than after.

The big hotel belonging to the Consolidated will be ready for occupancy as soon as the painter finishes up. The wood work is about all done.

Another mail horse on the Gainesville line passed in his checks last Monday. This makes two Mr. Evans has lost on this line within the past few weeks.

Our sanctum was made bright last Tuesday morning by the presence of two beautiful young ladies from Marble Hill, Ga., Misses Patterson and Annie Jackson.

We will have electric lights in the city just as soon as a shaft is received which has been ordered for some time and got delayed. Every thing is ready from them to shine their lights both at the Consolidated mill as well as in the city.

Another curiosity in the way of a chicken was hatched out at A. J. Edges the other day but seeing no other chick to mate with didn't stay here long. It had 4 legs, 4 wings, two tails and one head. Its legs and wings were perfect, even to its toes. It was well fixed up for walking but as its legs were opposite each other it could not have gotten any where, although it could have walked all day.

Prof. Colvin left for Delaware, Ohio, last Tuesday where he goes to be present at the college where his brother graduates. Then he will return to Athens in a few days and make an address at the State University. Afterwards he will return and go to Cleveland, Ga., to attend the teachers institute of White county. Then he will go to work in the interest of the N. G. A. College. These movements alone prove that the Professor is an able educator and our citizens are proud to have such persons settled among them. Wise men are a blessing to any community.

The other day some intoxicated stranger offered Hughes Moore $5 for a horse and buggy to drive for a short trip. The rig was soon fixed up for him. Then he wanted to back out but the owner refused to agree to it, so the money was paid over and the stranger started off on his journey. Sometime that night the horse was found making its way home but was without a driver, and nothing has been heard from the man as we know of since, and we don't suppose the liveryman cares whether he is ever or not as he got his money and has his horse back.

Recently we were told that a certain young man went out to Doc Coldwells and secured his horse and buggy so as to go after his girl and take her to church the following Sunday. He carried the girl to his house who enjoyed his hospitalities until the next day when she was driven out to church some few miles distant. After he got there another fellow "cut him out" of his lover and he had to return home with a sad heart all alone, but not entirely empty as he secured some liquor and filled up pretty well, endeavoring to drown his troubles.

A man from Banks county by the name of McWharther, working here was in a bad fix the other morning when he woke up and found that his only suit of clothes was gone as was also Marion Seabolt, who, rose quite early and put the mums on and left his old ones. Seabolt lives across the Blue Ridge and assistant Marshal Coffee was notified who went in pursuit and captured the thief between the 12 and 13 mile post on the Grassy Gap road. He was brought back and after changing suits was let go free, as Mr. McWharther didn't want to prosecute the youngster and be forced to return to Dahlonega at court as he did not know where he would be then. Seabolt says that he will pay the cost as soon as he finds him a job.

It is not only dwellings in demand in Dahlonega but business houses.

Dr. Cravens and J. F. Miller came up from Auraria last Tuesday and spent an hour or so in the city.

Green beans have been selling at one dollar per bushel here this week and new Irish potatoes the same.

A lot of spool thread while it lasts 3 spools for 10c. at J. H. McKees. He also keeps paint brushes cheap.

Lymon Wheelchel, of Aniston, Ala., another former Dahlonega boy, after spending a few days here with relatives left for home yesterday.

L. B. Crawford, of Blue Ridge, has sold his business house occupied by E. S. Copeland here to his son Boon Crawford, who expects to move to Dahlonega and go into business.

Some ten or a dozen workmen have been putting the new addition to Capt. Hall's building through with a vim this week and when done will be one of the nicest and most substantial structures in town.

Mr. Dale has moved his saw mill from the edge of town up near Milligan Ferguson. His planer will be removed down near Mechanicsville and will be very convenient to persons wanting any smoothing done.

BOARDS WANTED.—From 15th inst. till Sep. I will furnish supplies from my farm and store and keep boards at the Burt house on Park Street. Call on my mother for further information. W. J. Burr.

The scavenger wagon was started on full time last Tuesday morning with Babe Coffee, colored, as conductor. The first trip it made was down one of the principal streets which is kept in apple pie order. Had it been on a mission of collecting street or dog taxes some other route would have been taken first. However it got mired up for awhile in one of the improvement (!) mud holes recently made.

Arthur Lytner, the negro who struck Drew Anderson down at the mines some time ago with a shovel, had his commitment trial last Tuesday before Squire Worsley who committed him to jail in default of a three hundred dollar bond, charged with an assault with intent to murder. Quite a crowd of both whites and blacks attended the trial but not a word was said to cause any excitement.

A western preacher prayed the Lord to strike with lightning a brewery in course of erection. The prayer was answered, two sons of a Methodist minister were knocked off the building and the building unhurt. Many a time a preacher's child gets in the way of an answer to the preacher's prayer. The same storm completely demolished a church, says an exchange. This should be a warning to such preachers as prayed at the Dahlonega camp ground once that a cyclone might come if necessary to make christians, as one might destroy property or persons not desired by preachers.

Milton A. Smith, editor of the Aniston Hot Blast, was up this week to see his little babe which has been cared for by his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. F. Wheelchel, ever since Mrs. Smith died some time ago. Mr. Smith is an old Dahlonega college boy and has been one of the most successful ones in business that ever attended this institution. After leaving college he went to Gainesville and followed the newspaper business there for years. Then he located in Aniston, Ala., where he has built up a daily paper that is not excelled by any in that state and but few in the south. He is now putting in a type setting machine costing several thousand dollars which shows that the Hot Blast keeps abreast with the latest improvements.

John J. Martin takes charge of Wahoo postoffice first of July.

The contractor was to have finished the Castleberry bridge by the first of the month but hasn't as yet even started it.

Marshal Grizzle destroyed another big still in Dawson Tuesday and arrested two persons on warrants—Greenberry Hall, Jr., of that county and Marion Cochran, of Lumpkin county. Both bound over for illicit distilling.

Some of the citizens of this county attended the wedding of Miss Sallie Tritt and Mr. John Thomas (son, in Union county the other day. After the ceremony was over a fight occurred in the yard, participants being two of Mat Goodches sons, one of the Dockeries and another fellow, which caused things to be quite lively for awhile. No one seriously hurt, however.

The Hightower ditch, which was partially cut some years ago will be finished by the Consolidated Co. from Hightower church on down and enter the old Hand ditch just above Dahlonega through the tunnel crossing under the Gaddistown road so as to strengthen the water for the Hand mine. The survey has already been made and work will begin on the ditch as soon as all the options are secured, and this is almost finished.

There was a good deal of drinking out at Siloam church on last Sunday it is said, as usually occurs out there at their monthly meetings. Some parties got out in the road and shot off their pistols but as the preacher nor no one in the congregation was hit it did not raise any alarm as they have become used to such conduct. But some time if the grand jury don't take the matter in hand the devil will take possession of the church.

Our Georgia miners are being learned rapidly by the Western miners the manner of running the compressed air drills and all other improved machinery down at the Hand and they all get along like brothers. In the mill we understand when Georgia miners work at one thing while they are changed to do something else, giving them a chance to learn all parts. This is of vast importance to them and will be of great benefit to this country as the indications are now that much of this modern machinery will be used here in the near future.

We give the mining news just as it occurs—all mines alike, for we own no stock in any of them. Our paragraphs may not be as scientific as some would like, but by reading the NUGGET carefully you will be apt to catch on to what is taking place. Of course there are men here who would be pleased to write scientific articles about some individual or company's property. Being paid for such they might stretch out a little in order to keep a job. The NUGGET does not desire any such scientific work. What we want is the straight out facts and we will give them to our readers without any compensation from the one they may benefit. We give the news of a gold mine same as an item about any other industry carried on in the country.

Col. Farrow got up all his telephone posts from Porter Springs to Dahlonega this week and will have wire up and line in talking order next, which will be a great convenience to the Colonel and his guests. Pleasure seekers will be able to go up and spend the summer months at the Queen of the Mountains without any uneasiness of any body or anything left behind as they can hear from home at any hour. There is some talk of a branch line being established from the two mile branch out to either McKees or Coldwells store, from Dahlonega. The Colonel told us that if the people of that neighborhood wanted it he would assist them very liberally. This would cost but little and be of great benefit to them, in case they needed a doctor or desired to act hastily in any other case of emergency.

Under our new city laws this year there has been more talk, less done, bigger amount of taxes collected, more money expended and less to show for it than at any time in the history of the town. Boards of health and big mud holes have been created. The council met about a month ago and were in session about three days framing ordinances for us to live under which are all right were they carried out, but they have not got vim and backbone enough to do it. The two ordinances that have received the most attention are the goose law and the one in reference to the assessing and collecting of taxes. Various committees have been appointed but they all won't do their duty, if they do and make a report that frequently ends it. At their sitting in May among the ordinances passed was one to prevent slop or fish water from being poured out on the streets, to take effect at exactly 12 m. on the night of the 25th of May. Five hundred notices containing this and other matters to benefit the sanitary condition of the city, were published and distributed—we got one. At once some commenced fixing to meet it either killing or selling the last hog they had on account of not having space enough to build a lot the size the ordinance specified, while others—some of them councilmen—have not complied with the law yet. Since the opening slush of Hall's Villa a great slush of slop has run out from the kitchen on down by the NUGGET office smelling sour and creating flies by the thousands. As it continued we complained to the proper ones, and we continued until we have complained to every body in authority from the one in charge of the slop wagon on up to the mayor. We were told by the mayor to lay in our complaint in writing. This we did, but nothing was done to stop it, and the dish water flowed freely until last Monday we wrote a letter to Capt. Adams, president of the company owning the hotel asking him if he would not be kind enough to have the nuisance stopped. Since that time it has not been so bad. This shows that the officials are afraid to do their duty when coming in contact with men of money. Had it been some poor penniless man creating this stink to the annoyance of a rich man he would have many days ago been sentenced, the fine worked out on the streets and a portion if not all the house torn away. Yes, we are reminded of one case on the poor folks side, being Mrs. Barker, lying in the edge of town, in the Chapman building who washes to help support a large family. The suds from the wash place ran into the street. Complaint was made—not in writing—and immediate steps were taken. She was told to dig a hole on her own lot and pour the suds in it. Still complaints were made. The marshal was ordered to go and notify her to stop her washing and fill up the hole. The poor woman is industrious and wants to work but must cease her labors from authority that all poor people must obey in Dahlonega. At last she got permission to broadcast her suds over her lot and continue her work. Why couldn't the Villa folks broadcast their slops about over their premises instead of running them down on us and other people? This is the difference made in in Dahlonega between the rich and the poor. Isn't it a nicely arranged affair in a civilized community? Now a word about street work and we will close this time. About 6 months have elapsed and yet several hundred dollars have been expended, mostly on a few of the streets, some that are almost impassable have not been touched this year, but all living on those neglected have had to pay their taxes. The one at the corner of the jail lot for instance. The jail sower pipe has bursted in the center of the street, planks in one of the gutters are gone and great gullies are washed out making it almost impossible for teams. There are no side walks on this street and people have to go along the best they can. No councilmen or hon. tons pass this way is the cause of it being neglected, we suppose.

Madea Drunkard by a Prescription.

A funeral took place at Patterson, N. J., the other day of a young wife. The physicians certificate of death was "died of chronic alcoholism." The husband said:

"Our marriage had been a happy one until my wife was ordered to take whisky. I am not to blame for the scandal. Although I have been a temperance man for fifty-nine years I was forced to give my wife liquor at home or suffer scandal or disgrace." The story is a sad one.

On the death of her child about a year ago she was taken ill. In an evil moment the attending physician prescribed whisky for her. She continued to use it and almost before the husband knew it his young wife was a drunkard. The craving for liquor overmastered her.

For more than a half century her husband had been a total abstainer. He has a horror of liquor. He consented to it being administered to his wife because the doctor said it was necessary.

When he found that his wife had become a slave to liquor he tried to keep it from her. This was impossible, for if she could not get it at home she would go out for it. On that account the husband gave her all she demanded to prevent scandal.

Household Hints.

To give an appetizing flavor to broiled steak rub a cut onion over the hot platter.

Absorbent cotton, if quickly applied when milk or cream is spilled on cloth, will prevent a stain.

A tablespoonful of ammonia to a quart of water is the best medium for cleaning windows, lamp chimneys or any kind of glassware.

Canton flannel makes a good bath blanket for baby. It should be made large enough to completely envelop the child while it is being wiped dry.

A little powdered borax added to cold starch tends to give the linen extra stiffness and a little turpentine put into the boiled starch adds lustre.

The difference between white pepper and black is that black pepper is ground with the outer coat of the berry is still on, and the white pepper has it removed before grinding.

For stains on the hands there is nothing better than a little salt with enough lemon juice to moisten it, rubbed on the spots and washed off with clear water.

Choice B. Randall, a Cobb county, Ga., boy and Cecil Smith, a former Dalton boy out in Grayson county, Texas, went before the people of that county in a primary to see who would run for congress to fill "Babe" Bailey's shoes. Randall won by a close shave. Bailey goes to the United States Senate. Randall and Carter Tate were classmates at Dahlonega, where both graduated.—Dalton Citizen.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BARBER, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by F. W. Hall, Mine Co.

Daring.

This man is not in the habit of darning, but he really could not resist the temptation the other day when he entered a corner grocery in the outlying district. The pretty red-checked girl behind the counter looked so demure and said: "Certainly, sir," so sweetly when he asked if he could use the telephone that he was tempted to use electric converser as the means of throwing a complaint. Besides, has not she encouraged him by a slight arching of the eyebrows and a coy glance in his direction? She was waiting on a neighboring housewife, who was herself attractive enough to cause more than passing attention. They both laughed when he made a facetious remark to his friend at the other end of the line.

"Where are you now?" asked the friend.

"Why," replied the audacious fellow, "I'm out here in an east-end grocery watching a pretty girl sell a dozen eggs to a customer."

There was a sudden plunk and splash, as the confused girl allowed the paper sack into which she was counting the eggs to fall to the floor.

The proprietor of the grocery came in from the rear at that moment, and the young man escaped during the confusion.—Detroit Free Press.

Wild Man Caught in Wolf Traps.

A wild man was captured in the hills near Plum Fork a few days ago. He had been seen a number of times by different persons, but all efforts to capture him had proved fruitless until Louis Brown, a farmer, set two of his strongest wolf traps at a cave where the man had been sleeping. He was caught in both traps by the nose and right hand. When Brown found him he was trying to loosen the trap from his nose, but when he saw Brown he set up a most dismal howl and attempted to run. He was released and confined in a stable belonging to William Rice. For several days he would not speak, but he was finally induced to talk. He said his name was Levi Brewer, and that he was raised near Warfield on the Big Sandy. He appears frightened when strangers approach, but quiets down when he finds they do not intend to hurt him. His nails on his hands and feet are like the talons of an eagle, and he is completely covered with hair. He told the correspondent that he had supported himself by fishing and catching game with his hands.—Louisville (Ky.) Courier Journal.

Where People Dress Alike.

In Yucatan Central America, sisters dress precisely alike, even to the tying of a bow, the turn of a button, or the flower in the hair. In the tropics large families are the rule, and one may see in that country girl in groups of from three to a baker's dozen who belong to the same family, as their clothes will show. It is thus easy to distinguish the members of a family anywhere. In Annam men and women were their hair in the same way, and dress almost alike. Earrings and finger rings are worn by the women only. The men and women of the Cree tribe of Indians dress alike, except the ornamentation of their leggings, which is vertical for men and horizontal for women.

Passing of a Chief.

After four years of imprisonment, which he had endured with a fierce restlessness of a caged beast, Geronimo, one of the most bloodthirsty Indians in history, has gone mad.

He is a prisoner at Fort Sill, Okla., and it cost the government $1,000,000 and hundreds of lives before he was safely behind lock and key. Deprived of his liberty as a penance for his crime he could not stand the confinement. For fourteen years he has been a prisoner of war—for the last ten at Fort Sill.

For almost half a century Geronimo led a band of bloodthirsty Apaches on the warpath. He was a terror to early settlers in the southwest. At sixteen his people crowned him a war chief because he led them into a bloody fight successfully.

In 1882 he and Victoria, with 500 Avanches, were attacked by Mexican soldiers. Victoria was captured and beheaded. Geronimo escaped and became the great war chief.

In March, 1886, after four years of constant chase, General Miles and Major Lawton cornered Geronimo and his warriors in the Four Peaks basin, near Prescott, Ariz.

Four months of starvation and the Indians brought down the white flag. They were sent to Florida in a box car. The climate there killed over half of the band, and ten years ago the government decided to remove them to Fort Sill.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Not the Real Thing.

"I saw a train held up last night," remarked young Larimer. "Oh, tell me about it," replied Miss Cora. "Were you frightened?" "Oh, no. You see, it was only Mrs. Higgins holding it up while she passed an obstruction."—Hartman Life.

The term "boxer" as referred to often in our telegraphic accounts of the murders in China is of a recent coinage. The Boxers are a branch of the Great Knife sect of Shantung, a secret organization whose chief object is relentless hostility to the Christian religion and the killing or banishing of all foreigners from the flowery kingdom. Their intention is the uprooting of Christianity among the natives and then all uniting and driving foreigners out of China.—Ex.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 22, 1900.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The appropriations made by congress at the session just ended aggregated $700,000,000.

China declared war against the whole world when the Tak forts opened fire upon the international fleet the other day and big trouble seems to be just ahead.

Bryan will be the nominee of the democratic party for president of the United States. No one else is mentioned besides he already has a big majority of the votes pledged for him.

The negroes of Rome have boycotted the electric cars on account of the companies requiring them to occupy the three back seats in the car, which has been set apart for them.

The other day while Arch O. Bar and his little boy and girl were walking a trestle on the railway one mile north of Ellijay the father and daughter were killed by a train. The boy saving his life by jumping from the trestle.

The merchant who says, "Everybody knows I am here; why should I advertise?" forget that people are being born into the world of trade every day who never heard of him, but whose money is as good as that of his oldest customer. It is the old fogies who do not reach out, who do not get new trade, and who go to ture, say about him.—Nashville American.

A story is related of a minister who was traveling in the backwoods. In calling at a house he asked the lady if there were many Methodists in that section. "I don't know," she replied; "something was after my little chickens last night." "Any Presbyterians?" said the minister. "Don't know whether my husband has killed any lately or not, go around and look at the skins and see," she replied. Why madam, I presume you live in the dark." "Yes, but the old man is going to make a window in the back of the house." "Your husband then don't fear the Lord?" said the preacher. "Yes I guess so! He carries his gun everywhere he goes." The minister left.

There are still occasionally to be seen a few merchants who insist that their stores are so well known that they do not need to advertise. Admitting, for the sake of argument, that their assertion is true in every particular, how did their stores become known and why do they remain known? By reason of the fact that they were and are advertised verbally by their customers. But that sort of notoriety cannot keep any store abreast of the times; and, in business, not to go forward is to go backward. The merchant who would keep to the front in his line of business must advertise daily with the million tongues of the recognized medium of communication with the public, instead of depending for publicity upon the occasional good words of appreciative friends.—Columbus Sun.

The Ninth District Congressional Committee met in Gainesville last week and nominated Hon. F. C. Tate to succeed himself in congress. ## Mining Notes.

Seekers of gold will see by an ad elsewhere that G. C. Wallace and J. B. Witt have some valuable mineral property for sale in Lumpkin county. Persons wishing information on the subject can address them at Dahlonega.

We have in our office two small pieces of surface ore showing gold nicely taken from the Kennie Evans property, two miles south west of the Stewart mine on the Baggs Branch lead. Further developments no doubt will prove it to be one of the richest mines in Lumpkin county.

While down at the Hand Tuesday making an inspection of things generally we cast our eyes across the Yahoola and noticed quite a change in the Standard Co's property. A large force of men with mules and scrapes are engaged in excavating the ground for the site of another 120 stamp mill like that of the Consolidated Co's at the Hand. The clean up at the Hand last week was very satisfactory, so much so as to cause the Standard to wish that they had their mill completed now.

Birch Bros. finished last week, under the direction of the General Electric Company's expert, Mr. Parshall, the installation of their electric light plant. They are now working both days and nights and are delighted with results. The night crew is in charge of W. C. Keamun, who was formerly foreman for Birch Bros., but who has for the past six months been in charge of construction and operation of the Catawba Co., of North Carolina; returning to his old home here however to assume this position with his old employers. Monroe Patterson is superintendent, and devotes his attention more especially to day work and affairs in general.

General Superintendent J. P. Moore of the Crown Mountain Co., is giving the business special attention every day and things are moving right along as fast if not faster than was expected. The dam at the foot of the Mountain on Tan Yard Branch was completed first of the week and now the ground is being excavated for the mill site. A large force of hands is still at work on the canal at the Seabolt shoals. This canal is a little over two miles long which conveys water to the point to where the electric power is generated. The dirt work is more than half done and good headway has been made on the rock work. The wather has been pumped out of the Wallace incline, belonging to the Company and the gold in the vein can be seen glittering. Gen. Warner, president of the Company, arrived in the city Wednesday.

We are told that many men in the north believe that the gold mines of Lumpkin county are only surface mines. If they will visit this section they will soon be convinced that they are wrong. Why should the Lord in forming the earth plant the gold shallow in the south, and deeper and more of it and richer in the west? It is not reasonable to suppose that He would as the developments already made here clearly demonstrates the fact that the veins grow larger and richer as they are gone down on. Probably this impression got out because the southern people here have not had the necessary means to develop the mines of this country. Now that northern capitalists have taken hold of the matter it will not be long before they convince the outside world that there is as much gold in the Georgia mines as any where else, and as much if not more can be made in working them. Come and see before expressing yourself, and we are satisfied that you will be convinced.

In looking over the mines this week we were completely surprised to see the amount of work that had been done at the Consolidated mine. The large mill is kept running day and night and everything about it runs like clock work. The large air compressor forces the air through the long length of long pipe that runs the drills in all the opening of the mines, and it is wonderful to see those drills cut their way into the hard rock. One drill with two men doing the work of a dozen men or more drilling in the old way, and the concentrating tables were doing their work to perfection, saving so closely that in the last assays of tailings there was only a trace of gold. We stood with eyes and mouth wide open wondering what old Col. Hand would say could he come back and see all these wonderful changes. In the concentrate store house there are now over 100 tons waiting for the chlorination plant to start when they will be compelled to give up their treasures to increase the amount of gold that is taken each week from the plates. Now the ore. The question has often been asked will there be ore enough to keep this large mill running, (and we must say that we were a little skeptical on that point), but there is no doubt about it now. There is ore enough in sight to keep two such mills running, and the half is not told. The prospecting that has been going on under ground for the last two months shows large bodies of ore and more valuable than the surface ores. Above the mill tunnel was started some months ago towards the Breyman lode. The tunnel is now 230 feet into the hill. This tunnel so far shows 84 feet of ore. There are two cross cuts from this tunnel. No. 1 cross cut is in 57 feet and has so far 26 feet of ore. No. 2 is in 108 feet and has 80 feet of ore, and the assays show that the ore struck in this tunnel runs 50 per cent. higher than the top ores. The Prewitt shaft is 7x18 feet. A three compartment shaft is down 66 feet and so far three veins have been struck averaging $8 per ton. Another shaft, same size, has just been started on the Breyman lode, and this underground work is now being pushed for all there is in it with the air drills to help the work along. It will not be many months before this company will be able to show to the world as fine a body of ore there as can be found in the whole country. This mill, this enterprise is a success and these men who have come among us and put their money into it so freely and liberally will have nothing to regret.

Locals.

Prof. Paul Allen, of the Hopkins University, who used to reside in Dahlonega, was wedded a few days ago. The ladies name we did not learn.

Editor Bloomer of the Toledo Blade has been down again this week taking in the mines and will quite likely have something interesting to tell his readers.

White beans, Gingham, Chambray, Hammocks, lap robes, floor oil cloths, a full line of fancy and staple groceries; tobacco, cigars and candy, and when you want vinegar you want good pure apple. It don't soften the pickle. Bring along your jug and try some. Only 80c. per gallon.

FRANK L. REESE.

We overheard a gentleman at the postoffice last Friday wanting to know of one of our subscribers if he could borrow his Negroer the next day. "Don't know," replied the subscriber, "my family may not get through with it." "Well, what about Sunday, can I get it then?" This man was determined to have the Negroer. He was like the fellow who wanted the woman and asked her at the grave of her fifth husband if she would be his wife. He was determined to be on time.

Last week was so rainy and disagreeable that it looked like it would stop all travel to a city 25 miles away from a railroad, but it didn't seem to keep them from coming to Dahlonega. We decided to step over to the hotels last Saturday morning and see who were there. At Hall's Villa we found F. T. Wolcott, W. T. Wolcott, of Port Huron, Mich.; Mark Hopkins, W. J. Hopkins, E. C. Recor, of St. Clair, Mich.; J. W. Bloomer, F. G. Thomson, E. R. Guering, of Toledó, O.; At the Dahlonega Hotel we noticed W. L. Albright, of Blue Ridge, Ga.; R. A. Pool, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; C. C. Henry, Wilson Kerr, of Hill City, Tenn.; H. L. Griffin, of Atlanta, Ga.; H. F. Scott, of Altoona, Ga.; C. S. Ragland, of Chicago, Ill.

Wm. Higgins, father of V. A. and J. T. Higgins, died at his home in Davis' district between sundown and dark last Sunday, aged 88, and was buried at Siloam church the following day, Rev. W. J. Blackburn conducting the services. The deceased was one among the oldest citizens of Lumpkin county. He was in the Indian war and could have drawn a pension but never made any application, although he was a poor man and the amount would have greatly benefited him. Why he never made application we do not know.

Quite a change took place in our city affairs last Monday by Marshal Anderson resigning taking effect the 2nd of July, while assistant marshal Coffee was suspended. The council decided that one marshal could do the work, and appointed J. V. Harbison at a salary of $95 per month and perquisites, who went on duty the next morning. Jim has acted as marshal before and will make a good one. This no one doubts. It seems that all this was caused by the members of the body claiming that the officials had been neglecting some of their duties and would not serve any longer unless a change was made. One of the charges was that ye editor, R. C. Meaders and Mr. Watts were keeping hogs in pens not in accordance with the town ordinances. The cases were set for Tuesday afternoon but at the appointed hour it was found that the ordinances passed had not been placed on the minutes and could not be found and Mr. McAfee, acting mayor pro tem, postponed the trial until next Monday, for reasons, he said, better known to himself.

Summer Colds

are noted for hanging on. They weaken your throat and lungs, and lead to serious trouble. Don't trifle with them. Take Scott's Emulsion at once. It soothes, heals, and cures.

50c. and $1. All druggists.

Charlie Kerr, of Hill City, Tenn., is now behind the counter at the old commissary.

Capt. H. D. Ingersall attended the national republican convention at Philadelphia this week.

Mayor W. P. Price has been quite sick for several days, unable to leave his room, but is on the improve now.

The large number of northern visitors, after spending several days in Dahlonega, left for their homes last Tuesday.

Candidates in Lumpkin county are beginning to stick up their heads now and it won't be long until they can be seen in every direction.

Mrs. Barney, who has been running a boarding house for students for several months, departed for her home down the country last Saturday.

It will be seen by reference elsewhere that E. J. Walden announces his name for tax collector subject to the democratic primary in August. You most all know John. He is a good clever fellow and if elected would do every thing in his power to perform his duty.

If health and pleasure seekers wish to enjoy themselves and get away from the hot crowded city they should come to Dahlonega so they can a good nights rest, where there is always a cool breeze, causing you to have to sleep under a blanket at night in order to be comfortable.

It was right funny about a certain newspaper man being out the other day telling about getting five dollars to write up a mine and selling 150 copies of his paper, when the "editorial" was written by an outside interested party and nothing but slips containing the so called editorial were sold. The Nugget don't do business this way. We don't put in long articles of other mens writing, call them editorials and get pay for them. If there is anything good or interesting about a mine we are always willing to give it to our readers free of charge.

A head end collision occurred at Bell Junction on the Southern railway on Thursday last week by negligence of the operators. The Bell and another passenger train came together while at a high rate of speed without a moment warning. R. C. Mayfield, engineer on the Bell, and a flagman named Davis were killed, many were injured and both trains were a perfect wreck. Dr. Cravens of Auraria and Charlie Kerr, of Dahlonega, were both in the wreck but escaped without any injuries. Winnie Jefferson, colored, of Dahlonega was on the one going down and we learn from a card that she got one of her shoulders dislocated and will ask the company for damages.

Last Friday was the Consolidated Co's. pay day and among the several hundred hands coming in to draw their money we noticed blind John Hester feeling his way with a stick in the direction of the company's store to get the money he had earned working at a saw mill during the past month. It was a pitiful looking sight to see him occasionally stumbling over a stone or running up against a bank. He drew about $14. John lost his eyesight while at work on the Blue Ridge railroad several years ago, yet has never been the man to beg for a single nickel. He was always industrious and works at any thing that he can get to do and can do. This should make others with good eyesight and much more able to earn a living than John Hester, who makes it a business to come here begging every pay day, instead of themselves. So quit the business and go to work like John. If a blind man can make a living by work there is no reason why others can't unless they are too lazy to do it.

Our farmers have had a wet time to harvest wheat.

If you want to catch all the flies go to J. E. Moores and get one of his wire fly traps.

Arthur Sparks, after a long spell of sickness, died yesterday morning, leaving a wife and child to mourn his loss.

Mr. Martin of the firm of J. S. Newkirk & Co., has closed out his business and is now in the employ of J. H. Moore.

The funerals of James H. D. Postell and his wife Mrs. Artie M. Postell, will be preached on the 4th of July at Mt. Lebanon church in Canada district, Union county, by Revs. S. H. Waters and J. J. Gilreath.

W. L. Albright, of Blue Ridge, president of the Missing Link railroad, spent a few days in Dahlonega last week. We did not learn his mission but as he is a business man his visit to our city may mean a great deal.

Robt. L. Sutton, of Atlanta, and Miss Marie Brunby, of Marietta, who met for the first time in Dahlonega while attending commencement exercises were wedded in Gainesville while returning home. This is a case of love at first sight.

Tom Ledford, of White county, and Lewis Ash, of Chestnut district had a little twist the other day at the house of the latter's father, resulting in one getting a black eye and the other a bitten breast, causing them to be a little sore after the battle was over.

Dr. W. F. Scott, of Atlanta, was in the city a short while last week. The Doctor was looking after some lands which he owns in this county. One lot adjoins the celebrated Crown Mountain lot and no doubt contains much of the yellow metal.

Brook Elnod, col., after being bound over for selling liquor, was carried to Atlanta last Sunday. Brook is strong enough to make a living by manual labor but doubtless thought that he needed rest and this is what he got into. Others should take warning.

G. D. Bruce, the photographer, has moved his outfit to the old Joe Parker building just above the Masonic Hall where he is engaged in finishing up his work. He is not prepared here to do any work only to take views and finish them up in first class style as ever.

The other night one of the block-aders from the mountains had bad luck. He had about ten gallons of pure corn liquor which he had brought down for medical purposes and while delivering half a gallon in town to a customer some parties stole the remainder he had left in the woods. And he went away both penniless and liquorless.

The heavy rains have certainly been damaging to crops in this section. The corn is in the weeds and farmers are very much discouraged. Some kept on plowing and working in the rain but it will be of no benefit to them in the end as we have been told by those who have tried it that working this way injures both corn and land.

Will Stevens, a colored laborer who has been engaged at the Crescent mine ever since it was started, was painfully but not seriously injured last Wednesday by a cave falling on him. He was cut and bruised up considerably but is getting along all right and before a great while will be able to take his position at this mine again. Mr. Walker, the general manager is seeing that he receives all the medical attention necessary.

Dr. Groves, the dentist, after being absent several days down on the coast standing an examination before the state board as required by law returned last Friday, and having come up to the requirements of law is now ready to serve all who have decayed teeth or wish a set of new ones at short notice and at reasonable figures. It is no longer necessary to carry your mouth to Gainesville to have it worked on when it can be looked after here just as well.

Marion Chester's new house will soon be completed. Other improvements are moving right along.

John Green, col., is now carrying the mail from Dahlonega to Half Way on his shoulders. He goes out and comes in on time.

We still continue hearing concerning railroad talk. As the old saying is there is always some fire where smoke is seen.

It will be about two weeks yet probable before the city is lit up owing to a delay in some putleys being received.

It is a hard matter for some of our citizens to get wood to cook with as every one owning a team is either busy on the farm or hauling freight.

Charlie Hope informs us that he will be ready to take charge of the Gainesville and Dahlonega mail line first of next month. Charlie has got splendid teams and the people may expect good service.

A great number of people come here for many miles expressly to see the big plant of the Consolidated Co. It is certainly a great sight. A person may go every day and see something new nearly every time he visits the place.

Carl Wellborn, an old Dahlonega college boy, was nominated for the legislature in Union county the other day. He is a great friend to Dahlonega and the college and we hope that he will succeed in wearing the legislative crown.

Some time ago an illicit distillery was found near the premises of Dora Barns out in the eastern portion of the county. There was no one at it but the revenue officials were led to believe that Dora owned or operated it, which caused them to arrest and give him a trial before Judge Baker, who bound him over, after which he made bond and went his way rejoicing.

Mr. Wilkes, of the Mecklenburg Iron Works, North Carolina, has been here this week in the interest of his firm, probably putting in bids for some of the stamp mills to be built. Other contractors have been with us during the past week. One being from Chattanooga, having an eye on the hightower ditch that is to be cut. All helping to swell Dahlonega visitors, causing the city to keep wide awake.

Col. Farrow dropped into see us last Tuesday while here looking after his telephone line, who expects a large crowd of visitors at Porter Springs this year if it is not a wet season. Wet summers always reduce the number of visitors to that favorite summer resort, applications were made by parties who wished to go up this week but he was not quite ready for guests and told them to hold up a few days.

Hereafter hands working on the streets will be paid cash for their labor, so says Marshal Harbison. This is right. We have often said that the council nor any one of the body should be allowed to run a commissary for the city, by collecting the money and paying the hands off in goods. And when there is no money in the treasury give the laborer an order on the city treasurer same as the ordinary does on the county treasurer and let the party dispose of it at any store or to any person that he wishes.

The lightning rod man from Dawsonville has been here this week ornamenting some of our citizens houses with beautiful rods. This is right. We have often said that the council nor any one of the body should be allowed to run a commissary for the city, by collecting the money and paying the hands off in goods. And when there is no money in the treasury give the laborer an order on the city treasurer same as the ordinary does on the county treasurer and let the party dispose of it at any store or to any person that he wishes.

The iron bridge known as Castleberry bridge across Hightower river near Auraria, has been completed since our last issue.

J. L. Burns returned from his visit north a few days ago, being the first trip that he has made to his old home in more than a year.

The Nugget promptly leaves our office every Friday morning at 6 o'clock, and if you fail to get it on time it is the fault of some one else.

Such weather as we have had for the past few weeks is not very encouraging to brick manufacturers. A splendid time to work up the mud but not a very good time to sun the brick.

A fellow from the mountains went into Dr. Jones' drug store the other day for a sample of hair oil or hair renewer. By mistake he was given a bottle that contained something else. Tom McAfee can tell you what it was.

Frank Hunt, of the firm of Hunt & Shelton, marble men, of Gainesville, was up last week doing some work in this line. They have done a great deal of this kind of work in Dahlonega and have never failed to give satisfaction.

E. C. Reor, of St. Clair, Mich., as usual when he visits Dahlonega dropped into the Nugget office last Sunday, accompanied by F. T. Wolcott, of Port Huron, who spent quite a little while in talking about the mines and various other matters. Both are largely interested in the mines of the Consolidated Co., and feel confident of the large enterprise being a success.

Our readers will remember that the establishment of a bank in Dahlonega was talked of some time ago. A gentleman informed us last Sunday that the one who was at the head of this enterprise is dead. He lived in the north and was about ready to make a trip here on that business when he took sick and died. We are very sorry to hear of the gentleman's death, but hope that some one else will take the matter in hand and push this enterprise forward as it is one that is badly needed in our thriving city.

We had the pleasure of forming the acquaintance of Mark Hopkins a millionaire of St. Clair, Mich., during his visit to Dahlonega this week looking after his mining interests. It puts a queer feeling on a country editor having only a copper in his pocket to take hold of the hand of a man worth millions, but the Good Lord in creating one of these beings smeared enough brass on their face so they are not embarrassed on any occasion. Really a person unacquainted seeing us meet could not have told which one was the millionaire.

There are some people residing in Hall county who are always ready to try to throw cold water on any enterprise started in Dahlonega when an opportunity is offered. We heard of one telling a stranger on the stage the other day that mining was no good up here and that our big enterprise would soon fall through. Fortunately the one he was talking to knew more about Dahlonega than he did. If possible these liars would have people to believe that the sun does not shine anywhere else except in Hall county, rising and setting right in Gainesville.

It is useless for us to be requested to put patent medicine reading notices on our local page, for we won't do it for no sum of money, nor we won't insert them in any part of the Nugget for a few dimes merely to fill up the paper. When having any space to give away our home merchants or business men will get the benefit—those who are ready and willing to do us a favor should we call on them. Some editors will insert these notices for less than a quarter of a cent a line and at the same time charge their home merchants two and a half cents per line. We don't do business that way.

Lewis Prewitt, charged with selling liquor, was acquitted Wednesday.

J. A. Fergusons' announcement for tax collector will appear next week.

The physicians inform us that there is but little sickness in this section now.

Judge Murray, of Tennessee, is here this week looking after his mining interests in this county.

W. J. Hopkind and E. C. Reor, both interesting in mining here have extended their visit and are still with us.

For sale, a large good horse, work any where, and splendid buggy, harness and saddle. Apply at this office.

The deed of the Singleton and other property made to the Standard Co., recorded yesterday contains $3,500 worth of stamps.

The teachers examination took place in Dahlonega last Saturday but the weather was so wet and disagreeable there were only about a dozen who stood the examination.

P. Davidson, of Clarksville, Ga., has rented the stand formerly occupied by G. D. Bruce and will be ready to do all kinds of photographic work beginning 2nd day of July.

Squire Worley performed a marriage ceremony in the street fronting his house last Saturday night about 9 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. Marion Wylie and Miss Nannie Brooksher.

The city taxes have been assessed and the amount of property within the corporate limits is found to be more than $400,000 this year, doubling the amount of last year. The Consolidated Co. and Capt. F. W. Hall pay more than one-fourth the taxes on this amount.

Your attention is directed to the ad. of J. F. Castleberry who has recently opened out the old Burnside House now known as the Dahlonega Hotel. Mr. Castleberry used to run the Hall House and his manner of feeding and treating people are too well known to receive any comment from us.

For some years peddlers have been visiting Dahlonega and selling goods without paying either state or town license. Not long ago one came over from Blue Ridge and commenced trading in the city but was soon called upon for a five dollars license. This week he returned with a wagon load of goods and was compelled to pay a state license of fifty dollars before he could remove his vehicle or things. Now he can sell the rest of the year in the county and merchants can do nothing but grin.

A. W. Cain announces his name this week as a candidate for clerk of the Superior Court of Lumpkin county. His name will not be before any convention or primary but the people will be left to decide the matter at the ballot box. Mr. Cain was born and reared in Lumpkin county and there is not a brighter or more intelligent young man in it. He has just recently graduated at the N. G. A. College and is, as those acquainted with him know, fully qualified to fill this responsible position. He is at present county surveyor, being elected without opposition.

It seems that the lad who stole a suit of clothes last week was going under an assumed name. His name is Lum Tow instead of Aaron Seabolt, who is said to be one of the biggest thieves in Union county. We are told that he has not been from the penitentiary long where he had been serving out a ten months sentence for breaking into a postoffice and store in Tennessee, taking a lot of stamps, a gold watch, suit of clothes, pair of scissors, and other articles, showing that it takes quite a variety of goods to satisfy Tow. He was very fortunate here in being let go by returning the suit of clothes he stole in Dahlonega. This should be a lesson to him for if he does not mend his ways he will sooner or later meet his just reward.

Our article last week in reference to the councils acts caused them to wake up, stir about and continue to show their partial manner of doing business more than before. Those members of the council keeping hogs not in accordance with the ordinances suggested disposed of them either on Friday or Saturday, and on Sunday afternoon two of them put away their Bibles and walked nearly half a mile from town to find something against the editor of this paper. There they found off in the woods far away from any body's house two hogs in a pen or lot 17x28 feet. The nearest house to them being at least 75 yards and the next nearest being 100 and the next 200 yards. The nearest having a hog in a pen and near town but they didn't want to see or report that, it was not ours. Before this we had asked one of the street committees to come and examine the slop hole on the street created at Hall's Villa kitchen. He said that he had nothing to do with it, that it was Col. Baker, chairman of the board of health. Now if this committee has no right to look after a nuisance of this kind right in town what right have any of them to go nosing around our hog pen off nearly half a mile in the woods? When one-eighth of an acre lots with six or eight hogs in them are allowed right in the heart of town with people thickly settled all around. Really one of the aldermen is buying up hogs and putting in one of these pens. Which is the most injurious to health, an eighth of an acre lot right in the city having six or eight hogs in it, or one off nearly half a mile in the woods 17x28 feet containing only two? Now back to our visiting committee. Monday morning during the sickness of mayor Price and the absence of mayor pro tem Ingersoll they called the council together, elected Mr. McAfee mayor pro tem. The committee told about our hog pen, Meaders' and Watts', but didn't say a word about the negroes in sight of one of the councilmen. A case was made against us and the other two, but as there was no foundation to work from Mr. McAfee would not try us. No ordinances could be found on the minutes or anywhere else and no law has been violated by us. Three of the members desired us tried at all hazards and punished. From what we learn one of them wanted us marked with a swallow fork in the right ear and an under bit in the left. The second desired both ears cut smooth off, while the third one wanted our head to be shaved clean and wear a ring in the nose. For years we have endeavored to comply with the town or city laws and would like for others to do the same where it concerns us. We never did like to be imposed upon, but feel that he has recently been done. So far we have endured it for we want to conduct ourselves in a way that will enable us hereafter to wear a crown with as many stars in it as some of those who pretend to be christians here on earth with the golden rule as their guide. But again let us talk about things now, taking place right here on earth in Dahlonega. We said that we were endeavoring to comply with the ordinances, and that partiality had been used in transacting the business of the city. Now let us see if we cannot show both. First we will take Meaders & Sons. They allowed a permit stand to be built some time ago on their store porch. It was ordered taken down at once. At the same time one was built in front of the old Wims py store house. This wasn't modest but allowed to be enlarged, and still remains there. Is this justice between man and man? There are other matters we could refer to but we will leave them off and take up our case. A few weeks ago when going to build a house next to the Nugget office we had to get a permit from the city council to construct it on our own property. At the same time the Hall's Villa folks built a wooden tuba fourteen feet long without any permit and put it up eight feet inches on the street high out on the street and run their greasy dish water down the gutter within 15 feet of our well, on by our house and office, and the council won't have them stop it, and at the same time making a nuisance against us for having two hogs away off in the woods. Tell us, please, where is justice?

Bogus Money in Circulation.

The green goods men of New York and other places are getting in some active work in Gordon county and throughout North Georgia now and many of their crisp, new one dollar bills are in circulation.

Everybody who knows anything knows the old green goods game. It is the bland promise to give a big amount of bogus money for a small amount of good money. The bogus money is warranted to be just as good as genuine treasury notes, but if it is one can not see why the green goods men do not keep and circulate it themselves rather than sell a bushel of it for a few good dollars.

The latest catch of these swindlers is to send out a crisp, new one dollar bill neatly folded in their circular letters. Many of them have come into Gordon county and the strange feature of it is that most of them have at once been put into circulation by the persons receiving them. These bills are not genuine and it is a violation of the law to circulate them. People who receive and circulate these bills run a grave risk, but people who bite at the bait of the swindlers and send away their hard-earned good money with the hope of getting back a lot of bogus wealth deserve what they usually get—a box of sawdust or a bundle of brown paper.—Calhoun Times.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liverman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by F. W. Hall Mds Co.

Died From Hydrophobia.

Several mad dogs were killed in Lumpkin county last year, and we hear of one or two being killed right recently. Some people claim that there is no such thing as a mad dog now. If they will read the following occurrence clipped from the Wiregrass Blade it may cause such persons to give the mad dog question some thought and learn then to be more cautious hereafter:

James Sims, one of the most prosperous young farmers of Butts county, died at Jackson Saturday morning from hydrophobia. His sufferings were frightful to behold. Mr. Sims was bitten by a mad dog several weeks ago. A stone was quickly secured, and his family believed that all danger had passed. A few days ago hydrophobia developed in a most violent form. The victim became almost wild at the sight of water, and it became necessary to have a constant attendant with him. Mr. Sims was ignorant of the fact that the dog was mad, and when he returned home he heard the dog whining, and quickly opened the door. The animal sprang upon his master with furious strength. A terrific fight ensued, during which Mr. Sims' hand was bitten also.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh

that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system by entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except in prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Word in private to Suffering Women.

No one but yourselves know of the suffering you go through. Why do you suffer? It is necessary. Don't lose your health and beauty, for the loss of one is speedily followed by the loss of the other. Don't feel "weak" and "worn out." Impure blood is at the bottom of all your trouble.

Pensions.

At the session of Congress just adjourned, several important amendments of the act of June 27th, 1890, were passed, and a great wrong to pensioners, and applicants for pension, under that act, was corrected. Under the law, as it was construed before the amendments, a pensionable disability for one particular disease had to be shown or the claim was rejected, but now the applicant may show as many different diseases as he may have, and if the whole taken together, show pensionable disability, a rating is given and the claim is allowed. The effect of this will be, that many worthy soldiers will be given pensions who could not be rated before the law was amended, and further injustice prevented. Under the law as construed before the amendments, no widow of a soldier was allowed a pension if it appeared that she had a yearly income of as much as $300, but under the law as amended, she is allowed a pension if her yearly income does not exceed $250, which does away with another injustice and which the original act could not have intended. A grateful country cannot afford to do otherwise than to be generous to its defenders and those who may be dependent upon them, but it is to be hoped that the pension roll may always be a roll of honor, and that our liberal pension laws will not be abused.—Hes. publican.

A Card of Thanks.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations to what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it so many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction. We feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. D. De Moines, Iowa, For sale by F. W. Hall Mds Co.

Imagination and Disease.

In a Journalistic's Note Book Frank F. Moore tells an amusing and significant story of the influence of imagination upon health. A young civil servant in India, feeling fagged from the excessive heat and from long hours work, consulted the best doctor within reach. The doctor looked over him, sounded his heart and lungs, and then said gravely: "I will write you tomorrow."

The next day the young man received a letter telling him that his left lung was gone and that his heart seriously effected, and advised him to lose no time in adjusting his business affairs. "Of course you may live for weeks," said the letter, "but you had best not leave important matters undecided."

Naturally the young official was dismayed by so dark a prognosis—nothing less than a death warrant. Within 24 hours he was having difficulty with his respiration, and was seized with an acute pain in the region of the heart. He took to his bed with the feeling that he should never arise from it. During the night he became so much worse that his servant sent for the doctor.

"What on earth have you been doing to yourself?" demanded the doctor. "There were no indications of this sort when I saw you yesterday."

"It is my heart, I suppose," weakly answered the patient. "Your heart!" repeated the doctor.

"My lungs, then."

"What is the matter with you, man? You don't seem to have been drinking."

"Your letter!" gasped the patient. "You said I only had a few weeks to live."

"Are you crazy?" said the doctor. "I wrote you to take a few weeks vacation in the hills, and you would be all right."

For reply the patient drew the letter from under the bedclothes, and gave it to the doctor.

"Heavens!" cried that gentleman, as he glanced at it. "This was meant for another man. My assistant misplaced the letters."

The young man at once sat up in bed and made a rapid recovery.

And what of the patient for whom the direful prognosis was intended? Delighted with a report that a sojourn in the hills would set him right, he started at once, and five years later was alive and in fair health.

A negro was arrested in Mil-edgeville the other morning who for years had been supposed to be a woman. He wore long hair and dresses and always answered to the name of "Missy Vassar." For many years he has been employed as a family domestic and it was never dreamed but that the man was a woman until Thursday morning, when the officers were requested to arrest him. He is now in jail and Mayor Horn states that he will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BARCOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by F. W. Hall Mice Co.

Squaws Love Deeply.

A story of Indian love and death is told of "Coffin Point," the gruesome appellation by which a little neck of land at the very head of the Cohawsey River is known.

Tradition has it that an Indian chief found his last resting place there, the box, or coffin, being placed in the limbs of a tree. Here, the story goes, a young squaw, beautiful and popular among her race, would come day after day and night after night and maintain her sorrowful, weary vigil. At length, worn out by grief and harassed by the opportunities of a young brave of her tribe, who was her devoted admirer, but whose ardor met with no response in her own heart, she determined to end her wretched existence and join the great chief whom she loved in the happy hunting ground.

Stealing at her retreat at the break of dawn, when the braves, squaws and papposes were all wrapped in slumber and in their blankets, she cast one despairing look at the coffin above her, plunged a dagger into her heart and fell and expired directly beneath the silent form overhead, where she was afterwards found by the young lover whom she had subjected and who had come to seek her.—Philadelphia Press.

If all accounts are true, the dowager empress of China is the most remarkable woman of any age, more able than the English Elizabeth and more wicked than the Russian Catharine. None but a genius could have risen to supreme power from the position of a mere creature of the harem and held the reins of government of forty years, but it is in delirium that she particularly excels. Her murders are beyond computation. She has beheaded every influential friend of the emperor, degraded and banished thousands whom she suspected of disloyalty to herself, and it is claimed that the interior or third circle of the yellow city has become a slaughterhouse. It would seem to be high time for a country in which such atrocities go unpunished to be regulated from without.—Macon Telegraph.

In the last 60 years the speed of ocean steamers has been increased from eight and one-half to 22 and one half knots an hour. Ships have been more than trebled in length, about doubled in breadth, and increased ten-fold in displacement. The number of passengers carried by a steamship has been increased from 100 to nearly 2000. The engine power has been made 40 times as great, while the rate of coal consumption per horse power per hour is now only about one-third what it was in 1840. The weight of the machinery per horse power has also been very greatly reduced. Were the engines of the Campania proportionately as those in use 60 years ago, they would weigh about 14,000 tons. In other words, machinery, boilers and coal would exceed the total weight of the ship as she floats today.

Miss Helen Haven rode twenty miles at the top of her speed to summon medical aid on the occasion of an accident to a boy who had caught his arm in machinery. She made the distance in an hour and fell fainting when her message was delivered. Since then she has been mentally deranged and is in a private sanitarium. Singularly enough, she is said to regain her sanity as soon as she is placed on a bicycle and loses it when she is off.—Ex.

William Dean Howells says: "It is a thousand pities that Robins son Crusoe had no heroine." Mr. Howells we are much obliged to you for that suggestion, and some day we may write a revision of that celebrated romance and insert into it some of the doings of the fair creature that Crusoe could have clasped into his arms and carried ashore when the vessel was wrecked. The way she would have blustered when the clothes began to wear out, and have made old Rob hump himself to raise flax and build a loom before she would have worn those old greasy skins. And she would have taught him to sing and rock the cradle—crows out of the wheat.

A western fraternity editor ceiyed the following unique letter: "Send me a few copies of the paper which had the obituary and verses about the death of my little child a week or two ago. You will publish the enclosed clipping about my niece's marriage. And I wish you would mention in your local columns, if it don't cost me, that I am going to have a public sale and will rent my farm, also that I have a few extra calves to sell. Send me a couple of extra copies of the paper this week, but as my time is out you can stop my paper, as time are too hard to waste money on a newspaper."

When two Chinamen meet they shake hands. That is to say, each shakes and squeeze his own hands and covers his head. If the meeting is after a long parting, after the handshaking is over the friends rub shoulders till they are tired. Instead of inquiring after one another's health; it is etiquette to say: Have you eaten your rice? Where are you going? What is your business there? What did you pay for your shoes? How old are you?

A negro party has suggested a colored presidential ticket with H. M. Turner and Booker Washington for president and vice-president. They, of course do not dare hope to attain the offices, but think a negro national party might work for an appropriation which would enable the races to be separated.—Southern World.

Four thousand men were in the St. Louis strike, and in the past six weeks 13 persons have been killed, 63 wounded by bullets, 90 injured by other violent means, and the estimated business loss has been $100,000 a day. Strikes come high.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 29, 1900.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The republicans have named McKinley for president, and Theodore Roosevelt, of New York for vice.

The price of wheat is rapidly advancing in other markets and it will not be long until we will all have to pay dear for the busnets we eat.

Out of the fourteen negro enumerators in Augusta three were women. They might have pleased Uncle Sam but they didn't please the people of that city.

The Chinese shelled the city of Tien Tsin last week and the foreign portion of the town is said to be in ruins. Four thousand men were engaged two days first of the week.

The unusually heavy rains in Cuba have caused yellow fever in many places where it had been unknown for years. Fortunately, except at Santa Clara and Quamados, the United States troops have escaped.

A census enumerator in Newark, N. J., found a German citizen living with two wives in the same house. One he had married in Germany, the other in this country. One had four children and the other three, and were living in perfect peace in the same house.

It seems that the wheat crop in the northwest is considerably short this year. An expert who has just visited that section estimates the Dakotas as promisingly only 20,000,000 bushels each and Minnesota 35,000,000, a total of 72,000,000 against 200,000,000 last year and 225,000,000 in 1898.

Governor Wells, Thomas Kearns and Charles E. Loose, three of the six delegates from Utah, have each forwarded checks to Chairman Hanna for $50,000 as a contribution to the campaign fund. Four years ago these three delegates were Bryan leaders. Wells is the silver Republican and voted for Bryan; Kearns is the owner of a silver mine at Provo, and Loose is vice president of a bank. They contributed $25,000 each to the Bryan campaign fund.

Belle Boyd, the famous woman spy of the confederacy, died in Cillbourne, Wis., last week. Beside many stories that are told of her, an old confederate soldier told The Citizen this one: Belle disguised, in a man's suit, approached the federal lines one day, and being halted by a sentinel was asked, "To what army do you belong?" She replied, "to the army of the Lord." Then you are a d—long ways from headquarters," gruffly answered the guard as he took up his patrol.—Denton Citizen.

It is only to the faint hearted that a small difficulty seems an insurmountable obstacle in the path of success. Persistence will overcome every difficulty; for it is resistless. If, therefore, an advertisement or two have failed to bring the mercantile success expected, advertise again and without cessation. Business does not grow like a mushroom, but slowly and as the result of indefatigable effort. Remember that the constantly dropping water will finally wear away the stone.—Columbus Sun.

We received a copy of the Illustrated Kentuckian last week published at Louisville, containing a "write up" of the coal mining interests of that state, one being that of the St. Bernard Coal Company at Earlington, with an illustration of the mine and stockholders of the same. Among them being the familiar faces of John B. Atkinson, president, and C. J. Norwood, mining engineer, both of whom used to be interested in gold mining in Lumpkin county and are well known to a great many of the citizens here. Mr. Atkinson sold out here and Mr. Norwood returned home, both of whom are giving coal mining their entire attention.

J. D. Pinion has moved his family back to Dawsonville.

The protracted rains have been a drawback to all kinds of work.

A portion of the work done at the Hand mine never ceases. Quite a number of hands work every Sunday.

The dance billed to take place at the court house Monday night was a failure, being too wet and disagreeable for any one to get out.

Our farmers have lost heavily by the long continued rains. The corn on bottom land has turned yellow and not more than a half a crop will be made, if that.

It is said that Frank Crisson and Arthur Holsey collided over on the river the other day and tried to stop each others breath by closing down on the wind pipe with their hands.

Rev. V. A. Higgins will preach at Oak Grove the 4th Sunday in July in the absence of Rev. W. T. Dowdy who with Rev. J. J. Gilreath will preach the funeral of William Simmons at Mount Zion church that day.

Some of the chickens raised in Lumpkin county are shipped to Gainesville and then on to Florida. The ones raising them get but little but the ones who buy them in Florida pay dear for their chicken meat—the middle man makes the biggest profit.

The game of base ball which was to take place last Friday between the town boys and the miners didn't come off. Men after using the pick and shovel in the mines all day don't feel much like playing ball after work hours are over unless it was more profitable.

The sum realized at the colored Baptist church entertainment Friday night amounted to a little over fifteen dollars. The negro man spoken of heretofore as being one hundred, one year and six months old was on hand with his life who made very good music for one who has seen so many summers. The old negro gets about much better than the most of men do at half his age, and appears to be good for several more years to come.

B. P. Allison, charged with misdemeanor—getting into a row up in Chestate district at an illicit distillery while in company with U. S. Deputy Marshal Downs of Union county, was found guilty in the U. S. court in Atlanta a few days ago and fined $25 without any cost. This case was transferred from Lumpkin Superior court to the U. S. court. It is said had he been sent to the penitentiary that the blockaders intended having a torch light procession.

W. H. Schly, of Savannah, who owns a valuable mineral lot just across Crane's Hill adjoining the Hand mining property, was in the city last week. For years his agent has returned this lot at one hundred dollars for taxes. This year the collector refused to take it at this figure believing it to be worth two thousand dollars or more, and Mr. Schly came to see about it. It was arbitrated and the arbitrators fixed its value at $4,000.

Another fight occurred up on the head of Chestate one day last week, several parties being interested in it. It has been so rainy and wet that the hands couldn't work on the Crown Mountain canal and those that indulge had nothing to do but to drink liquor and fight. That vicinity was about to be named sweatash on account of the large amount of blockade liquor manufactured but if they don't quit quarreling and fussing it will have to be called Fighting Town.

Quite a number of Toledo, Ohio, people came in last Friday and stopped at Hall's Villa, being Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hetrick, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman Miller and Mrs. Julia Gibson. The object of their visit being to see the Hand mine, some of them if not all having an interest in it. Northern ladies are quite different to the southern ladies. The former invest their money in the mines and take great interest in them, while the latter pay but little attention to mining operations.

Mrs. L. Q. Meaders is right sick at this writing.

Send in your announcements and get on the band wagon.

It rained so last week that Col. Farrow couldn't stretch his telephone wire from here to Porter Springs.

J. W. Chapman now owns the old home place in Dahlonega, having purchased his sisters' interests this week.

Up to this writing it has rained some every day during June except two days last week. This will give you an idea whether it is wet or not.

Mrs. Anna Cox, of Texas, and Mrs. Maud Taylor, of Silver City, Ga., both daughters of Dr. B. F. Chapman, deceased, are here on a visit to relatives.

The Dahlonega and Gainesville hack line changes hands next Monday, when it will go into the hands of Charlie Hope and we trust that the system will improve.

A little son of Mr. Loveless cut his foot so badly by stepping on a piece of a bottle that he has not been able to walk a step since it was done last Sunday.

Mrs. E. Castleberry, a relative of J. F. Castleberry, of Dahlonega, died in Dawsonville a few days ago. The lady had not eaten any food it is said for more than twenty-five days.

Charlie McDonald is now behind the counter at J. M. Brookshers. Charlie is a good clerk and if Mr. Brooksher would invest a little money in printers ink they would sell a heap more goods.

Mr. Staimy, who recently came here from Habersham county and has been at work with jeweler Mes Guire, has been very sick for several days but is improving some. His father arrived Tuesday.

The general crop report is not favorable by any means. It is not only this county that is suffering by much rain, but many other sections. It looks now as if crops would fall short all over the whole country.

During the storm last Tuesday lightning struck near G. W. Jenkins' residence but not close enough to hurt any one. A black gum was literally splintered and a pine tree close by was relieved of much of its bark.

Several merchants and other citizens played off a good joke on merchant Frank Reese last Tuesday by going in his store and eating up every peach he had. Frank is quick to get mad but kept down pretty well on this occasion as they were all his friends, but it caused him to look quite red.

The street down by the jail has at last received the attention of the authorities. It is now being ornamented on rainy days and nights by the scavenger wagon being left in it. Those who have never tried it have no idea what a nice thing it is to run up against a scavenger wagon after night. We can't see why it is that it is not left on the public square instead of in Neglected Street. There is an ordinance against wagons or vehicles being left on the streets, but that don't make any difference as this one is on Neglected Street.

On last Tuesday news reached Dahlonega that Miss Etna Wilbanks committed suicide by shooting herself twice in the central office of the telephone Co. where she worked in Gainesville. An effort was made to try to find out what caused this beautiful sixteen year old girl to take her life and the only reply was that she was "stuck on Will Evans." Nothing additional has yet been learned. Will Evans is the party who killed young Merck in Gainesville some time ago and is now in Fulton county jail for safe keeping. It seems that Miss Wilbanks has been arranging for this for some time. She had a ring belonging to young man in Dahlonega and the day before shooting herself he said that he received his ring by mail.

News comes from Che Poo that the allied forces entered Tien Tsin the 23rd. The Americans and British entered the city first, silencing the guns of the arsenal and breaking through the Chinese lines. The foreigners were close behind. The Russians lost four killed and thirty wounded. The loss of other nationalities were small.

The passenger train over the Southern which left Macon for Atlanta Saturday night at 7:30 ran into a brick culvert which had been washed out near McDonough and the whole thing was ditched, killing thirty-three persons. But one of the crew of the doomed train escaped death. The train caught fire and all but the sleeper was burned. Many of the unfortunates were drowned while others were burned or crushed.

News comes from Havins that the postal frands have rather swamped the scandal existing in the university, which has been the milking ground for some of the best known men in Cuba, who, as under-professors, received $24,000 a year each. There were seventy-two of these professors and twenty-four assistants, some of them having no classes at all and others only one or two students. Many of the professors drew other government salaries. When this was called to Gen. Wood's attention he immediately inaugurated reforms which resulted in cutting down the list to forty-six, including assistants, which is enough considering that there are only 450 students.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 29, 1900.

Frank L. Reese has a complete line of white lawns.

Prof. Palmour has recovered sufficiently to be out again.

One Lumpkin county farmer has an acre planted in bunch beans.

The walls of the Bostwick Hall are now being plastered on the outside.

The Consolidated Co's hotel is done now except hanging the doors and building a kitchen.

Councilmen who voted to close barber shops on Sunday should not sell goods on that day.

Bring along the cash if you are wanting an office and let the people know it through this paper.

Farmers can't do anything but pick berries between showers. One brought eleven bushels to town the other day.

Judge Brittain speaks of moving the postoffice from the court house on account of so much noise being made in the hall by the little boys who congregate there and play.

Next Monday night city marshal Anderson steps down and out and turns the keys over to J. V. Harrison who will not have any assistant but expects to do all the business himself.

Dahlonega has gotten to be one of the best markets in Georgia for the farmer. This week fodder has been selling at from two dollars and thirty cents to two and thirty-five per hundred, while it only brings one seventy-five in Gainesville.

A fellow near Porter Springs has adopted a new plan of gathering cherries from a high tree by cutting it down. This he did the other day since which he has hoped the tree up trying to get it to live. He may have plenty of cherries this year but he won't next.

Marshal Harrison put Henry Edmonsons and Julia Jones' boys in the lockup for cursing and fighting the other day. They are too small to pay fines and the marshal thought by putting them up awhile might cause them to mend their ways and be a warning to others.

As we have said before if any one gets mad at us we receive their prayers if they go according to the Bible for it instructs them to pray for their enemies, but we don't expect that the Lord pays any attention to them, as we can't call to mind just now where we have ever been benefitted by an enemy in this way.

Both Capt. Hall and the manager of the big hotel are at a loss to know what to do about sewerage. The late ordinance prohibits a sewer from running into any branch within the corporate limits. This will be a considerable drawback to those building, unless they build on Choice street. Here they need nothing of the kind but can empty it on the street without any expense.

The negro who was to cook at Porter Spring, this season got on a little "bender" while in the city last Tuesday. He says that he was all through the Spanish-American war, being shot once, and came near getting into the Dahlonga calaboose. He belived what Marshal Harrison said and last seen of him he was making his way out Clarksville street about four feet at a step.

A valve in the air compressor down at the Hand burst last Tuesday causing them to have to send to Milwaukee for another before it can be run any more, causing all the drilling to have to be done by hand until it is started, being very slow work. By hand a drill with two hands only cuts five feet a day while one run by an air compressor cuts from fifteen to thirty feet in the same length of time.

Mayor Price was able to be in his office last Tuesday for the first time in about a couple of weeks.

The bridge across Yabowick creek has got to be in such a dangerous condition that teamsters are afraid to cross it with a heavy load.

Rev. Mr. Verdell, after being absent some three weeks on a visit to his sick mother, returned to Dahlonega latter part of last week.

The peddler from Blue Ridge, who had to pay a $50 tax last week sold his wagon and team and left out. He won't likely be back to see us any more.

It is strange that a person can't drive through town in a buggy with a two gallon jug empty and some hoes without being accused of having blockade liquor. This occurred last Sunday.

We have never seen the roads as bad at this season of the year as they are here now, being in such a condition that several regular teams failed to go to Gainesville first of the week.

The Dahlonega NUGGET is undoubtedly one of the best local papers on our exchange list. The people of Dahlonega should do all in their power to help support such a live enterprise.—Acworth Post.

Tangle foot fly papers—24 double sheets for 50 cents at The Gable Drug Co. Also finest line of matings, new in style and color. Then if you wish any fire works for the 4th of July this is the place to get them.

Our new mining operations even help the blockader. Since work has commenced up in Chestatee district by a big crowd of hands both board and the price of liquor have advanced. The former ten cents per day and the latter twenty-five cents per gallon—the last named article being ready sale at $1.25 per gallon.

A child of James Elrod, residing about three miles from Dahlonega, was buried here last Sunday. It would have been buried the day previous but the father was unable to get a team to haul the corpse to the cemetery in Dahlonega. Had he been rich he would have had plenty of buggies and vehicles necessary at his command free of charge.

How do you expect to live and prosper by borrowing your neighbors paper? Be a man, one that is some benefit to the community, or go off and hang yourself. Don't let the editor catch you reading a borrowed paper and lay it down when he appears and look as if you had stole a sheep. Try to be a man and not a newspaper borrower, for they are the sorriest so called people on earth.

June bugs have appeared. Used to when we were small children would tie these bugs by the legs with a string and enjoy themselves hearing the noise of their wings while trying to fly away. Now children have to be furnished with high priced bicycles to ride in order for them to be happy, making it much more costly for people to live now than in the days of long ago.

W. S. Huff, we believe, was the first enumerator in this county to finish up his work. He found out many interesting things during his rounds, an account of which will be given hereafter. Among them a lady residing in Wabow district being the mother of twenty-three children. All these children are dead except three and the mother still enjoys very good health, considering her age.

A certain person said the other day if we would speak out in the interest of democracy that it would be of much benefit to us. The editor of this paper is getting sufficient patronage to enable him to live without having to beg, borrow or steal anything and we can't see where it will benefit us to put on a big load of politics. We have learned to let well enough alone. You vote for who you please and we will do the same. If the NUGGET don't suit you it may be that you will find some paper for sale that will.

Mr. Henley paid Gainesville a visit this week.

Fodder sold here this week at $2.85 per hundred.

Prof. J. M. Pitner, an old Lumpkin county boy, was wedded down the country a few days ago.

New married couples should at once subscribe for the NUGGET and start out on the voyage of life right.

Thirteen applicants for licenses at the last examination of teachers passed. Three got first grade, five second and five third.

Luther Powers, of White County, was bound over here the other day because an illicit distillery was found near his house some time ago.

Elsewhere will be found the announcement of F. W. Wimpy for tax collector. Frank is known to almost every voter in Lumpkin county and if elected will faithfully discharge his duty.

Even leading ministers praise the NUGGET. Presiding Elder Cook in requesting the paper to be sent to his family at Young Harris says: "You get out the best news paper I know of in North East Georgia."

B. P. Gaillard, Jr., who has been at Athens for some time fitting himself for the practice of law is back at home here ready for business as he was admitted to the bar at a special term of Clark Superior court.

A big line of jewelry and a good assortment just received. Pretty lawn caps for babies 10c and 5c. Nice chair bottoms 8c. Call and examine our shoes. The price is so low that you will be surprised at it.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Farmers are the worst disgruntled set of people we ever saw. Many of them have not worked over their corn crops here the first time. It has been raining for a month and still continues. Really it is getting to be alarming.

When you ask some of the aldermen about certain neglected matters they try to lay the blame on the mayor. All ought to resign unless they can open both eyes on the rich as same as the poor and then maybe a new body would be elected that could do more and talk less.

Some people are so full of democracy in Lumpkin county that they won't support a relative they say, unless he is not of their faith and order, but still they will give their horseshoeing to a negro in preference to a white man because he is cheaper. Democracy ought to be cheap to. Then on the other hand we know of a republican here that is so neutral in politics that he won't let either one do his shoeing in Dahlonega but sends his horses twenty-five miles to Gainesville to have his work done.

Alderman Gurley states that he will resign next Monday night if the hog ordinance is not enforced. We don't blame him. There are matters more important than the hog ordinance and if this is the only thing he has in view in the interest of the town he ought to resign. He wasn't elected by the people no way and we guess his resignation would be very acceptable. There are other members of the council that ought to resign unless they could learn to look at the rich and poor mans interest alike.

It's right funny. Sunday before last alderman McGuire was one of the members who went down to our house and the instigation of a case being made against us for keeping a hog out in the country not in accordance with a city ordinance that had been passed but not important enough to be put on the minutes for more than fifteen days afterwards, last Sunday sold two hoes when doubtless he believed that the Lord was taking his afternoon nap. We are not selfish or narrow minded but will take up the golden rule as our guide and say: Show pity Lord, oh Lord forgive, let an erring brother live.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Kingsbury, who is still engaged in mining near Auraria, was in the city last Saturday for a short while. He is not been able to get in full time on account of the heavy rains we have had for weeks, but when the weather settles he will doubtless have plenty of water to do a big business.

As stated some weeks ago the introduction of western labor here by the Consolidated Co., would be an advantage to the miners of this country by learning them how to run the most modern gold mining machinery. Sure enough, the Georgia miners who only a few weeks ago were getting only a dollar a day all now receiving $1.25, being so easily learned the art of handling machinery.

Notwithstanding most out door work had to be suspended for several days past on account of the long continued rains the Hand mill keeps running both day and night regularly. Most of the ore is being taken out under ground, otherwise work would have been compelled to suspend as we have been experiencing some of the rainiest weather ever known before in this section. It has not only been a drawback to the mining industry but all other.

We called at the office of the Crown Mountain Gold Mountain Co., to see the rich ore from the big strike last week, like many others at this place. The large amount of glittering gold taken from the celebrated Wallace vein was certainly a beautiful sight. About three pecks or a bushel of ore lay on the table and to say that it is rich is putting it mildly. We have seen much rich ore, but the quartz on exhibition are the most dazzling we have ever seen. The nuggets of gold sticking in the rocks can be seen across the room. The vein is a true fissure and between well defined walls, and the rich strike is at a depth of 125 feet. This vein is known to run through three or four 40 acre lots belonging to the Company. At the place where the rich strike was made the vein is from two to three feet thick and worth at least five hundred dollars per ton. Really some of it could be picked out that would run one thousand dollars per ton, and taken as a whole would constitute a gold mine any where out side of Georgia.

The Colorado and Georgia Smelting Co., after having completed all the necessary preliminaries, has begun to break ground at their smelting site, and the railroad switches are to be put in without delay, so that the erection of the smelting plant can be pushed right along. This smelting enterprise after once in full blast is bound to be one of the most substantial and successful undertakings, while located in a large mineral section, where an abundance of paying ore exists, that may be properly termed smelting ore while at some distance in several other sections high grade ores can be, and to some have been already secured, to insure a regular supply of ores of the desired character. The advanced price for the treasury stock of this company is sufficient proof how readily investors have recognized that this smelter here is destined to make one of the best paying enterprises right from the beginning, and to judge from the energy displayed by the board of directors, and from the management of the affairs of this company from the start success, from a financial standpoint, must be the result.—Gainesville Cracker.

Having heard much about the method to be employed in mining the ore on the Crown Mountain property we called a few days since on J. F. Moore, Esq., the general manager of the Company, and requested him to give information on that subject for the benefit of the public. To our questions Mr. Moore said: To understand the proper method of mining and milling the ores on the Crown Mountain property it is necessary to understand the topography of the locality and character of ore to be mined and milled.

Crown Mountain proper is located on the western end of the property. It is almost one shaped. Its base covers about sixty acres and its altitude on the east is about 395 feet. The chain of mountains or ridge from Crown Mountain is an easterly direction, and in the form of a crescent for about one mile, which belongs to the Company, has an altitude of about 265 feet. The mill site is located three-fourths of a mile east of the base of Crown Mountain and 60 feet lower than the base of the mountain. In other words the altitude of Crown Mountain from the mill site is 430 feet, and the altitude of the chain of mountains or ridge from Crown Mountain to the eastern line of the Company's property, from the mill site is from 280 to 300 feet. Crown Mountain from east to west is a soft formation to considerable depth and contains the largest auriferous saprolite veins ever opened in this country, through these large lodes of soft ore runs a perfect net work of auriferous quartz veins, from an inch thick to many feet. The same is true of the chain of mountains or ridge to the eastern line of the property, except the saprolite ledges are larger on Crown Mountain than any where else. Now it will be seen from what I have said that Crown Mountain, as well as the entire chain or ridge can be washed with water to the mill site from the apex to near the base. A large flume line will be constructed from the mill to the base of Crown Mountain, and later flume lines from it out to the base of the ridge running from Crown Mountain east to such points as we want to make cuts. Water will be pumped from the Chestatee river into reservoirs on top of the mountain. Then giants under heavy pressure will be placed where we desire to make cuts. The ore, both soft and hard, will be cut out of the mountain with water and transported with water through these flume lines to the mill. As the ore, both hard and soft, enters the mill it will be run over grizzlies, the small and soft ore dropped down and run through roller mills. The hard ore will pass over the grizzlies into a bin connected with a rock crusher, and from the crusher it will be carried automatically to the heavy stamps. Wilfley concentrators will be used to save all sulphurets and floured quick. The soft ore carries a large per cent of free gold. This ore will be dissolved by the water and the gold will lodge in the flume lines. We estimate that only about one-third of the ore cut out of the mine will reach the mill. Two-thirds of the soft ore will be dissolved and go off in the water. In other words 1,500 tons of both hard and soft ore cut out of the mine 500 tons will reach the mill and 1,000 tons be dissolved, and the gold in it stop in the flume lines. The hard ore is broken up in the cuts as washed out by the giants, so the entire ore, both hard and soft, will be mined and sent to the mill at a nominal cost. Hard ore, where it can be transported by water, can be mined in this way without reference to its being connected with soft ore. A single vein could be followed through the mountain and washed out with a giant and water. All this is hydraulic mining, the cheapest of all methods of mining ores. In this way it can be mined and milled at a cost of 123 cents per ton. This method of mining can be done on Crown Mountain property for twenty years or more before the base of the mountain is reached, with the mill capacity mentioned, and until that is done we would not be compelled to resort to deep mining, but it is our purpose to begin deep mining at once. I will begin an 8x16 foot shaft on the celebrated Wallace vein at once and others of the same size on the Murray lode. We expect to go down a thousand feet. Other shafts for deep mining on the property will be commenced from time to time. While as before stated, we would not be compelled to do any deep mining for many years, as we could supply the mill with both hard and soft ore by hydraulic mining, we prefer to demonstrate that deep mining can be successfully done in Georgia. The ore taken from the shafts will be transported to the mill on trams and milled with the hard ore. A chlorination or cyanide plant for the treatment of concentrates will be put up when necessary. The ore washed to the mill will be mostly free milling.

General A. J. Warner, president of the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co., left for Ohio last Friday. He is greatly enthused over the Crown Mountain gold mine. He says he will have the Company's big plant in operation as soon as men and money can do it. The mill will be a 500 ton capacity in 24 hours. Sixty stamps will crush 250 tons and the roller mills grind 250 tons of soft ore, all of which will be mined and milled with water. The entire plant, including the big pump on the Chestatee, will be run by electricity from the power house at Senolt Shoals. Judge Murray, who formerly owned the property and is the largest stockholder in the Company, proposed to the General to take the free gold that would stop in the flume lines above the mill and pay all the expenses of running the entire plant, leaving to the stockholders the gold caught at the mill and concentrates, but the General declined. Thus it is a marvelous proposition, but the Judge says that he could make good money for himself after paying all the expenses.

Every body should remember that there is no fishing allowed in the lake in front of Capt. Woodwards residence.

Judge Tate says that he will be a candidate for re-election and that he will make the proper announcement later on.

Doubtless Dahlonega is the only city any where that has to have foot logs on the side walks when it rains in order to keep out of the mud.

The mule belonging to the city got out the other day and went over into the stock law section where it was impounded and cared for.

Allen Jarrard of Chestatee district, was up before Com. Baker last Tuesday charged with illicit distilling some time ago. He was bound over.

Moonshiners, you had better not bring any liquor to town now. Marshal Harrison is an old rat in the barn and will catch you if you don't mind.

Two more Mormons have arrived here making four who are making a thorough canvass in the county but they had just as well return to where they started from as they are making no headway here.

J. A. Ferguson announces for tax collector this week subject to the democratic primary. The last race made by Mr. Ferguson shows that he is popular with the voters and he was only defeated by six votes. If elected he will do his duty.

Robt. London, in returning home the other day while the river was up fell out of the boat and had to swim a considerable distance before he reached the shore. He lost his umbrella and several other articles, and had he been unable to swim he would have lost his life.

By reference to another column you will find the announcement of W. H. McAfee for the senate. Mr. McAfee has represented the district before and has a record that compares favorably with any members of the state, always having an eye to the best interest of his district as well as to Georgia.

"Did you notice that press telegram about three miners who tried to thaw out some frozen dynamite near Chattanooga last winter?" asked a veteran machinery drummer at the Grunewald. "Well, they have deferred the obsequies until they can collect enough of the deceased to make a respectable showing, all of which reminds me of a curious little experience of my own. Frozen dynamite can be thawed with perfect safety by simply placing it in the sun, but that method is to slow for the average miner, and he prefers to take chances on artificial heat. In the fall of 1892 I was in the lead district of southern Missouri, selling a patent drill, and one crisp, clear day I started out to visit a mine nearly twenty miles distance from the town I made my headquarters. I lost my way enroute and in the middle of the afternoon, when I was tired out and hungry as a wolf, I encountered a lone miner digging a shaft in a desolate gulch. He gave me the proper directions, and when I asked him whether I couldn't get something to eat he told me to go right up to his cabin on the hillside and help myself. "There's hot coffee in the pot and yams in the oven," he said, and I reckon you'll find a hunk o' corn pone on the shelf. Jest pitch in same as you lived there."

"I accepted this hospitable offer gladly, but when I opened the door of this ricket old cook stove I was astonished to see the oven half full of what looked like misshapen bananas. 'Hi! partner?' I called, sticking my head out of the window 'what are these funny things in the stove?' 'The fat ones is yams,' the miner shouted back, and the long yellow ones is dynamite. The blamed stuff frizzed on me last night, and I'm thawing it out.' At that exact instant I concluded suddenly that I was not hungry. In fact, I never withdrew my head from the window, but simply kept on going out and landed in my saddle with a flying leap that would have done credit to an acrobat. I reached the head of the gulch before I drew rein, and on my return trip I made a wide detour to avoid the neighborhood. If the good natured man is still alive, he I doubt exceeding, he must remember me as an escaped lunatic." From the New Orleans Times Democrat.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach, I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Livernston, Davenport, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by F. W. Hall Mase Co.

A little Plymouth rock pullet in M. M. Pooles hen house, at Springfield, Mass., the other day, laid an egg that measured 9 inches in circumference lengthwise and 7-1/2 inches around. Inside of the mammoth egg was an ordinary sized egg with a perfect shell on it. The inside egg had a double yolk.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system while entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials Free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Word in private to Suffering Women.

No one but yourselves know of the suffering you go through. Why do you suffer? It is necessary. Don't lose your health and beauty, for the loss of one is speedily followed by the loss of the other. Don't feel "weak" and "worn out." Impure blood is at the bottom of all your trouble.

A Card of Thanks.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction. We feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. Dyer, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by F. W. Hall Mase Co.

PREMIUM LIST READY

Will Be Mailed on Application to Secretary Martin.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT

Great Southern Inter-State Fair is Offering the Largest Premiums Ever Advertised For Agricultural Products—Women's Department.

The Premium List of the Southern Inter-State Fair is now ready for distribution and those who desire a copy should apply at once to Secretary T. H. Martin, 215 Prudential Building, Atlanta. It will be mailed without charge. The premiums of last year have been increased about 30 per cent. The classes have been extended also, thus offering greater opportunity for the exhibit of more complete things. Many novel and interesting contests have been arranged. Attention has already been called to the "Giant Premiums" offered for agricultural products. These special prizes are awarded winners. They exceed any premiums ever before offered for this character of exhibits. Wheat, oats, corn, potatoes, cotton and pumpkins come in for big money, $500.00 being offered for the best head of the various sorts of grain. The same is offered for the best 20 stalks of cotton and the same for the largest pumpkin.

There are five large prizes offered for the best exhibit of agricultural exhibits made by Georgia farmers—$500, $300, $200, $100 and $50, respectively, for the five best exhibits of this character. The basis of competition and all information regarding the contest is given in the Premium List.

Another interesting list of premiums are those of the Cattle Department. There has always been quite a demand for classes in this department open only to Georgia and animals. But separate classes of this character have heretofore been impossible on account of the enormous expenses. Happily this objection has been met by a full treasury and the double classes are offered this year. Fair Association has been encouraged to do this on account of the great success of the Cattle Department of 1900, and it is hoped that the Georgia entries this year will prove the wisdom of the Fair Association in making this additional expenditure.

The Department of Women's Work and the Flower Show have been placed in charge of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. J. Lindsey Johnson is president. This does not mean, however, that only members of this organization will be allowed to make entries in this Department. The privilege of exhibit is given to all and the indications are that the Department of Women's Work will be one of the most interesting of the Fair.

Every Department of the Premium List is full of interest. It is well worth perusal, whether or not one expects to become an exhibitor. From a synopsis of the lists here would be quite impossible for lack of space. Send and get a copy. That is the best way, and then you will have the whole story.
